Husband Of Local Woman In Air Crash

Plane Went Down In China Sea With 13 Aboard

The husband of a Monroe woman last night was reported to be among the 13 airmen missing when a U. S. Air Force B-29 crashed into the China Sea Thursday night. He was identified as Major R. E. McConnell, husband of the former Miss Mamie Myers of Monroe.

Mrs. McConell and the couple's three children, Dixie, Robert and John Paul, had been residing with Mrs. McConnell's mother, Mrs. J. W. Myers, 1906 Fourth street, until last November when they left with Major McConnell for Okinawa.

Acording to reports received here, Mrs. Myers was notified by the Red Cross last night that her son-in-law was among the missing airmen.

A native of Arkansas, Major McConnell had been in the Air Force since World War II.

Meanwhile the Air Force said the fate of the plane was determined with positive identification of an unopened parachute fished from the sea as belonging to the missing craft.

No survivors have been found in a two-day search over a 20,000 square-mile expanse of ocean, Air Force officials said.

The U. S. bomber disappeared at sea 200 miles east of Formosa while on a training mission. Its last radio message Thursday evening fixed its position but reported no trouble.

French, Sultan Agree On Outline To Stop Violence

PARIS, Sept. 10 (AP)—France and the pro-Nationalist former Sultan of Morocco, Mohammed Ben Youssef, today agreed on a general outline of the protectorate's future in a step which may end an era of bloodshed in North Africa.

Two special French envoys were flying to Paris from distant Madagascar with the exiled former sovereign's signature on the terms of this agreement. The pair, Gen. Georges Catroux and Henri Yrissou of the Foreign Ministry, exchanged letters embodying this accord with Ben Youssef yesterday.

The understanding aims at the creation of an independent Morocco, governed by a constitutional monarchy linked to France politically, economically, militarily, and culturally. It will be submitted to the French Cabinet for approval as quickly as possible.

Catroux and Yrissou are to report directly to Premier Edgar Faure and his "Committee of five" tomorrow afternoon in Faure's offices. Other members of the committee are Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, Justice Minister Robert Schuman, Defense Minister Gen. Pierre Koenig and Pierre July, minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs.

Faure bolstered his position further today by adding overseas Minister Pierre-Henri Teitgen and Reconstruction Minister Roger Duchet to the five-man committee for tomorrow's crucial meeting. Teitgen is national chairman of the Popular Republican Movement (MRP), a slightly left-of-center Catholic party, while Duchet is an important figure among the Moderates and Independent Republicans.

As part of the deal, Ben Youssef will send his former subjects a message calling for an end to the terrorism which has afflicted Morocco for months. His appeal is expected to be broadcast Monday, Sept. 12, the day which Faure set as his own deadline for a definite move toward a new status for Morocco.

Scattered Rains Forecast For Area

The weather forecast for Louisiana is partly cloudy to cloudy with scattered showers and thundershowers Sunday and Monday, cooler in the extreme north Sunday with moderate to locally fresh easterly winds on the coast increasing late Sunday.

A similar prediction is given for Arkansas.

Retail Merchants Write Sharp Letter To Municipal Officials On Power Issue

The Retail Merchants Association of Monroe charged yesterday in a letter to Mayor John E. Coon, Commissioners Huckaby and Cline and City Attorney Wood Thompson that it is being by-passed and ignored in its requests for remedial action in the municipal power situation that has plagued Monroe increasingly during recent years and months.

Speaking for merchants, businessmen and the public generally, the Association asked this pointed question:

"Could it be that the City Council is literally slamming the door in the face of those citizens who are trying to work with them?"

The Association's letter pulled no punches. It repeated and emphasized requests made in two meetings of recent date, which were conveyed to Mayor Coon and the City Council, and which, according to David C. Silverstein have not been answered by the elected city officials.

The first of these was made August 29, when the Executive Committee of the Retail Merchants Association urged that the city take immediate action to provide standby electrical power from the Louisiana Power and Light Company.

This was in the wake of a Monroe municipal power blackout lasting from four to about ten hours, causing an estimated damage of $150,000 to businessmen and householders.

The second request was made Sept. 1, when the Association met with Mayor Coon and the City Council and officials of the Louisiana Power and Light Company.

The Association then adopted the following resolution:

"Request that the city attorney immediately investigate the legal

Turk Interior Minister Quits Following Riots

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Sept. 10 (AP)—The Turkish state radio announced tonight the resignation of Interior Minister Namik Gedik. The broadcast said two of the nation's other top security officials have been transferred.

No reason was announced for the shakeup, which followed destructive anti-Greek riots in Istanbul and Izmir. The Turkish Defense Ministry yesterday relieved three generals who held important commands in Istanbul when the disturbances broke out Tuesday.

The broadcast said the transferred officials were Edhem Yetkiner, general director of state security, and Alaeddin Dris, Istanbul chief of police. There was no announcement of their new duties.

Gedik was the first Cabinet official to arrive on the scene of the rioting here. Premier Adnan Menderes, who came shortly afterward immediately declared a state of siege and ordered the army to take command of the city.

Miss Colorado Selected Miss America Of '56

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 10—UP—Sharon Kay Ritchie of Colorado became the new Miss America Saturday night. The pretty 18-year-old auburn-haired girl won over the other 48 contestants.

In second place was Miss Oregon, Dorothy Johnson. Third was Miss Chicago, Florence Gallagher. In fourth place was Miss North Carolina, Clara Arnold, and fifth was Miss Oklahoma, Ann Campbell.

The pretty new beauty queen of the nation not only won the title, but also a small fortune in prizes, a chance to make an estimated $60,000 in her year-long reign and probably a movie contract.

Miss Ritchie, a native of Denver, hopes to be a dramatic star. In the talent section Saturday night, she did a dramatic reading of "The Murder of Lidice" by Edna St. Vincent Millay. She hopes to study at the famed Pasadena Playhouse, marry a good-looking man, and have children.

But the marriage will have to wait at least a year, under the terms of the contest.

She said to the nearly 19,000 persons present and to the millions of others on television that "I just can't tell you how much I appreciate this honor. All I can do is thank God for giving me the ability to get where I am."

She was met after a fast tour down the long ramp at Convention Hall by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Ritchie. Both of the parents embraced their daughter.

Sharon is 5 feet, 6 inches tall. She weighs 116 pounds. She has what the fashion people call perfect measurements, a 35 bust, hips the same and a 23-inch waist.

Sharon said she planned to use the $5,000 scholarship which she has won to got to a "fine college." She has selected the Pasadena Playhouse.

Sharon didn't say whether she had a prospective husband yet, but if he wants to actch her, he'd better be a college man "and very good and considerate." He'd also be better than bright if he happened to love children.

"All of those things," Sharon said, "add up to happy homes."

Russians Present Visas To 28 U. S. Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 —UP—The Soviet embassy revealed Saturday that more than 28 members of Congress have been given visas to visit Russia in an unprecedented movement of American lawmakers behind the Iron Curtain.

A spokesman said 11 senators and 17 representatives had applied for and received visas from the embassy here. Many others, he said, received visas from Soviet embassies in Europe.

The embassy told the United Press that more congressmen have been given permission to travel in Russia this year than ever before. It apparently is part of Moscow's new sweetness-and-light program. The embassy said no visa applications have been turned down.

But Rep. W. R. Poage (D-Tex.) challenged this statement. He said he applied to the embassy for a visa and was supposed to get it in Helsinki, Finland. But he said it never came.

He voiced suspicion that his application was turned down because of an anti-Soviet speech he delivered at the recent Inter-Parliamentary Union meeting in Helsinki.

"Maybe it was just bureaucratic bungling," he said, "but I suspect it was because of the speech I made. As far as I know I am the only member of Congress whose request for a visa was turned down."

The embassy freely supplied the information on the traveling congressmen. But the State Department refused to supply any data. Officials indicated they will not, as a matter of practice, discuss the activities of congressmen.

In response to questions, the embassy's press attache, Aleksander L. Zinchuk, supplied a list of 28 names and the following additional information:

1. "Some" of the 28 members of Congress requested, and were granted, permission to bring along "their wives or secretaries" on the visit to Russia.

2. The list of 28 names is incomplete because it includes only those who submitted their visa requests at the embassy here.

3. Not all of the 28 actually will visit Russia. Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) for one, "probably won't go," Zinchuk said.

Of the 11 senators listed by Zinchuk, at least six have already used their visas to visit Russia. They include Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Allen J. Ellender, (D-La.).

Dock Strikers Expected To Defy Deadline

'Temper Of Men' Cited As Reason By ILA Leader

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP)—This port's million-dollar-a day dock strike gave indications today it may be prolonged into next week despite a Monday back-to-work deadline set by a court.

State Supreme Court Justice William Hecht Jr. had stayed injunction proceedings until Monday to give the workers a chance to go back to their jobs by then.

But Patrick Connolly, executive vice president of the International Longshoremens Assn., independent, told newsmen:

"From what we hear, the temper of the men is such that they will not be back to work."

The strike is being waged against the New York-New Jersey waterfront commission. The ILA contends the commission is trying to break the union with harsh and discriminatory tactics — a charge denied by the commission.

As the strike went through its fourth day, the ILA announced that leaders of its Atlantic Coast District Council will meet in emergency session here tomorrow.

William Bradley, ILA president, meanwhile was flying to Houston, Tex., to report on the New York harbor situation to the ILA's South Atlantic and Gulf District Council.

Bradley was asked if his purpose was to get longshoremen in that area to walk out in sympathy.

"No," he said. "They're entitled to a report from the president. However, I'm sure if we sought their support they would give it to us."

Longshoremen have conducted one-day sympathy walkouts in East Coast ports such as Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk.

Although not the target of the strike, the New York Shipping Assn., employer group representing 170 shipping and stevedoring firms, estimated the walkout was costing business about a million dollars a day.

Car Mishap Near Tallulah Seriously Injures 2 Women

Two women were seriously injured Saturday evening and a third passenger, husband of one of the accident victims, received minor cuts and bruises when their car skidded into a ditch and wrecked four miles west of Tallulah.

Mrs. Don Henderson of Columbia, S. C., driver of the automobile, suffered a broken arm, brain concussion, multiple lacerations and bruises and was unconscious.

Physicians at a Delhi clinic said her condition was "very serious."

She was accompanied by her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Shannon of El Paso, Tex. They were enroute to Columbia.

Mrs. Shannon had both collar bones broken, a punctured arm, a lacerated elbow and possible serious internal injuries.

Shannon was asleep in the rear. he received minor cuts and bruises.

Investigating officers theorized that Mrs. Henderson fell asleep while driving and that her car dropped off the shoulder on the right side of the road. She apparently awakened and jerked it back on the highway when it skidded out of control off the left side, flipped end over end, and skidded on its top for about 40 feet.

The trio were given first aid treatment at Delhi and brought to St. Francis Hospital in a Mulhern ambulance.

Name-Calling Breaks Out In Meeting

'Offensive Remark' Says Khrushchev To Atrocity Charge

MOSCOW, Sept. 10—UP—A charge by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer that Soviet troops committed atrocities in Germany in World War II touched off a bitter clash Saturday between West German and Soviet leaders that deadlocked their Moscow negotiations.

The grim-faced 79-year-old chancellor made the accusation directly before the Soviet top leaders in session of their conference.

The Soviet Communist party leader, Nikita S. Khrushchev, snapped back that Adenauer had made an "offensive remark" and the meeting broke out in an exchange of name-calling.

In an attempt to break the deadlock and erase the bitter feelings of the morning's exchange, Adenauer invited Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin to an urgent man-to-man talk Saturday afternoon in his country villa outside Moscow.

Officials of both nations took off their diplomatic kid gloves earlier Saturday in a second-day session of the Moscow conference that was

Chinese Reds Consent To Release U. S. Civilians Desiring To Return Home

GENEVA, Sept. 10—UP—Communist China announced Saturday that American civilians who desire to return home will be freed.

In return, the United States announced it would send home those Chinese students now in the United States who desire to put themselves under Red rule.

An American spokesman said that under the agreement, reached after nearly six weeks of negotiations, seven Americans now in jail and three held under house arrest will be sent to Hong Kong "within a few days" for repatriation.

An additional 19 Americans will be released "as soon as possible," he added.

The announcements were made by Chinese delegate Wang Ping-Nan and American delegate U. Alexis Johnson, who have conducted the long and difficult negotiations.

The first 10 Americans to be freed are:

Sarah Perkins, Presbyterian missionary, New York.

Rev. Harold W. Rigney, Roman Catholic priest, of Chicago.

Dorothy Middleton, Presybterian missionary, Cicero, Ill.

Dilmus T. Kanaday, businessman, Houston, Tex.

Lawrence Robert Buol, civil air transport pilot, Stockton, Calif.

Levi A. Lovegreen, Baptist missionary, of Seattle, Wash.

Walter A. Rickett, Fulbright scholar, Seattle.

Rev. Frederick D. Gordon, Roman Catholic missionary, native of Somerset, Ohio.

Rev. Joseph E. Hyde, Roman Catholic missionary, native of Lowell, Mass.

Rev. James G. Joyce, Roman Catholic missionary, native of Clinton, Mass.

The first seven have been held in jail and the other three have been under house arrest.

In the negotiations, the United States sought the release of 41 American civilians in all who are known to be in Red Chinese hands.

Wang had announced four days ago that 12 of the 41 would be permitted to go home.

Saturday's agreement covered the remaining 29.

Landy Case Gets Reconsideration By Navy Board

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP) — Eugene Landy, denied a Navy commission because his mother had been a Communist, today went before a special Navy board that is reconsidering his case.

"I'm sure that justice will triumph and I will get a commission," Landy told newsmen after the brief preliminary hearing, held in hush-hush secrecy at Brooklyn Navy Yard.

Landy said the three-man board, headed by a rear admiral, was "friendly and cooperative."

The first session was concerned only with verifying various documents. Landy did not testify, although he plans to make a statement in his own behalf later.

The board is considering Landy's application for a reserve commission from scratch. The proceeding

Five California Fires Unchecked; Two Controlled

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10—UP—Firefighters reinforced by battalions of Army troops and Marines Saturday battled two of California's major forest fires to a standstill but at least five other blazes still raged unchecked.

U. S. Forest Service officials said the fire which ravaged timber and range land valued at $7.5 million east of Santa Barbara "was not running now and there is no immediate danger of a breakthrough."

A runaway blaze which threatened the giant stand of redwoods in central California's Sequoia National Forest was finally controlled after eight days of exhausting struggle by 1,700 men. The flames ate through fire line after fire line to within a few hundred feet of the famed General Grant tree and the Boole tree, third largest in the world.

State and federal authorities pointed out the difficulty of estimating fire damage "at this stage" but both agreed California had suffered losses that would run in excess of $15 million in valuable timber and watershed alone.

Exhausted firefighters were forced back in all fronts during a week of stifling heat. Army troops and Marines, numbering in the thousands, were called in from posts as distant as Ft. Lewis, Wash., to bolster the fire lines.

Fires were still uncontrolled in the northern part of the state where low humidity and fresh breezes outmaneuvered the best efforts of veteran forestry crews and Army troops.

Fire had burned over some $4 million of timber in the Klamath National Forest near Yreka in mountainous Siskiyou county. The forestry service said several smaller fires in the same general area were known to have been set deliberately.

Families Of Civilians To Be Released By Red China Relieved But Skeptical

BY UNITED PRESS

The families of 29 Americans held prisoner by the Chinese Communists greeted the news of their impending release Saturday with relieved cries of joy tempered only by the fear that some last-minute hitch might shatter their hopes.

"I'll believe it when I see him or hear his voice," said the father of Lawrence Robert Boul, Stockton, Calif.

"It would be wonderful," Mrs. A. J. Rickett, Seattle, Wash., said after learning that her son, Walter A. Rickett, was among those Red China said would be released, some "within a few days." But, she said, "I'm afraid to get my hopes too high.

"Maybe this time they mean it," she said, "but I'll have to see it to believe it."

Rickett, one of those scheduled to be released within the next few days, was a student in China when he and his wife, Adele, were arrested. His wife was released last February. She created an uproar by asserting she was guilty of the Communists' charges.

Rickett's father said after hearing the news of his son's impending release, "that's sure good news. It will take 25 years off the wife's shoulders."

D. T. Kanady, Houston, Tex., father of Dilmus T. Kanady, said he was "naturally glad" over the news. But he added he had heard nothing from the State Department and "we've had so many disappointments — we want to be sure."

In Altadena, Calif., Mrs. Robert McCann, whose husband was seized four years ago in Tientsin, said "It's wonderful news." But she was reluctant to say more until McCan actually is repatriated.

"I'd rather not make any statements now — not until he's released," she said, "a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush."

Mrs. Evelyn Harrington, sister of the Rev. Thomas L. Phillips, Butte, Mont., said in San Francisco, "of course I'm very happy." Then she added, "I just hope there won't be a slip-up."

Also in San Francisco, Harry Clifford, brother of the Rev. John William Clifford, said "we're naturally anxious to hear more — specifically, when the release will come."

Junior Troopers League Members Are Graduated

By JOHN EARL TAYLOR

Graduation already? Yes that's right.

Twenty-three members of the Junior Troopers League of the Louisiana State Police, Troop "F" Monroe under the supervision of Lt. William B. Awl, ended their instructive course yesterday at the National Guard after being presented new badges.

This course, which was developed to promote closer and warmer relations between the young people, their parents and friends, with the department of State Police and law enforcement as a whole, was begun on Sept. 7, 1953.

It was disclosed yesterday by Lt. Awl that future instructional periods will run for a duration of nine months, so that more boys may be reached in the state directed program.

At instructional periods from 9 to 11 a.m. on Saturdays at the National Guard Armory, the Junior Troopers were given a thorough run-down on traffic and highway safety, basic knowledge of criminology, crime prevention, good citizenship, leadership, courtesy, reverence and government.

In addition to these, police responsibility and functions, first aid, safety measures and other educationals projects have been covered by the Junior Troopers.

All members were given a pledge to sign, a set of rules and regulations, an official badge of the league and a membership identification card.

Each member of the Junior Troopers were given a qualifying examination with ranks being allocated on the basis of leadership, integrity and adaptability. Some close-order drill was administered each Saturday morning at the armory.

Yesterday, 23 Junior Troopers, dressed in their uniforms consisting of khaki pants, t-shirt with a large emblem of Louisiana bearing the inscription Junior Trooper across the front, overseas khaki cap, web belt, and brown shoes, and brand new badges, left the National Guard Armory with the thought in mind to pass their learned information on to their classmates.

Lt. Awl, well deserves recognition for the donation of his time each Saturday morning to the instruction of these Junior Troopers who when reaching adulthood will have the idea of vehicle and highway safety and an understanding of law enforcement and its responsibilities to society.

Something to be proud of, was the new badges received by the group yesterday. It is a reduced replicia of the regular state troopers badges save for the color. A round red emblem bearing the familiar Pelican overlooking her young with the inscription Union, Justice, and Confidence is stamped into center of a white back-ground trimmed in gold.

The graduation class included Joe Brownlee, James W. Daniel, John Hardwick Douglas, Ralph E. Rields, Jr., James Hunt, John R. Joyce, Billy R. Leonard, Jackson E. Youngblood, Thomas A. Corry, William W. Lassiter, Richard H. Cook, Kenneth D. Evans, Lamond G. Whitten, Nickie J. Rogers, Richard R. Cox, Thomas W. Stevenson, Charles P. Blanchard, Jr., Travis O. Jones, Jr., Lyn Earl McCready, Louis Cribbs, Louis R. Pace and Freddie Ross Webb.

Those persons having the following membership qualifications are invited to become a member of the Junior Troopers next Saturday at 9 a.m. at the National Guard Armory on S. Grand street:

All members will be residents of the State of Louisiana, between the ages of 10 and 15 years, must have good character, be physically fit and of good moral reputation and must have parents written consent to join.

Little Theatre Curtain Call

By MARION FISHER

If Little Theatre audiences are looking for laughs, we feel that it is only fair to warn you that in "The Happy Time" there is nothing left to be desired in the "hilarity department." Those who saw this show, either on Broadway or in the movie, will remember what wonderful entertainment it is. Even the cast members of the Monroe Little Theatre, who have been in rehearsal only three nights, have repeatedly stopped their reading of the script, just to laugh. Opening night is October 14. It's a must.

Director Ivan Uttal is keeping pace with his well planned schedule, and has taken the cast through the blocking of the first two acts, to date. He announced on Friday night, the complete rehearsal schedule for the remaining time before opening night. This announcement, together with the fact that he considerately adheres to a close observance of his rehearsal time schedule, has elicited some very appreciative comments, to your reporter, from busy members of the cast. It all adds up to one simple and obvious conclusion. We are on our way to an opening hit play, for the season, at the Selman Field Playhouse.

Memo to membership workers . . . Please turn in all membership applications that have been sold, on Friday, September 16. Contact your team captain, or phone Mrs. L. H. Carter at 3-8509.

Wanted . . . to borrow, for the run of the opening play, a bust of Beethoven. If any one cares to lend one to us, please phone 3-8509 or 7750 . . . We can use carpets, rugs or runners, at the theatre. Old ones which have been relegated to your attic would be very welcome. If you care to donate them, please phone either of the above numbers.

Personal notes . . . Board member Barbara Addison, Lucy Ware, Charles Wilhite and Bob Canedo were rehearsal visitors, Friday night . . . Ivan Uttal and other Little Theatreites, drove to Shreveport early this week to see Noel Coward's "Light Laughter," starring Hagler Henry, the final production of the season at the playhouse of the summer theatre. A back stage visit with Mr. Henry and the other cast members, as well as Director Joseph Gifford, was greatly enjoyed by the Monroe visitors . . . Mrs. Zette Trousdale graciously assisted, on opening night rehearsal, with the French accent and pronunciation, which adds so much charm and color to the lines of the script of "The Happy Time."

Don't forget to tune in the J. C. Roundtable TV program, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Panel members, who will participate in the discussion of the Monroe Little Theatre, will include among others, president of the board of directors, A. O. Evans, and executive director, Ivan Uttal.

Beginning A Series On The American Constitution

Editor's Note: The American Constitution in its original script is preserved as the most precious document of the greatest nation on earth.

We observe Sept. 17 as Constitution Day.

The American Constitution is not a dry faded document. It is a living flame, vital, throbbing, pulsating with life, modern, refreshing as the snowclad mountains, calling to the spirits of men that groan under monstrous oppression in many lands, as a bright morning star of hope.

It safeguards us at home in our precious liberties, based on human dignity and the inalienable rights of man.

Beginning today, the Morning World offers a series of editorial articles on our Constitution; and the attention of teachers and students is especially invited, that they might clip these articles for future reference.

Sept. 17 is Constitution Day, marking the 166th anniversary of the signing of the greatest charter of freedom ever evolved by the mind of man.

It is to be hoped that the day will be observed in every public school, college and university in America; and that "Constitution Week," Sept. 17-23, proclaimed by the Daughters of the American Revolution, will receive full recognition in schools, churches and homes, and in the press and on the radio and television.

For the benefit of the millions of high school and college graduates who have had little or no instruction in American history, it might be worth while to recite the chronological events that led to the ratification of the Constitution of the United States.

The War of Independence against Great Britain was waged under direction of The Congress of the United States of America, better known as The Continental Congress, composed of members from the original 13 States. The Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union were submitted to State Legislatures by this Congress in 1778, and ratified first by New Hampshire and last by Maryland in 1781.

There was loose confederation in this scheme of government, but no chance whatever of "perpetual union," since central authority was lacking. Chaos threatened the new-born nation, which had been victorious in arms, with the aid of the gallant French and of stout lovers of liberty in England itself.

The tired and beaten-down Continental Congress wisely left the initiative to the States.

Virginia, "The Mother of Presidents," took the lead, appointing in January of 1786 a group of commissioners numbering some of its illustrious sons to meet spokesmen of other States with the idea of remedying a desperate situation. Delegates from Virginia, Delaware, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania met at Annapolis, Maryland, now famed as the proud site of the U. S. Naval Academy.

At this meeting, Alexander Hamilton was commissioned to issue a call asking delegates from all states to meet in Philadelphia in May, 1787 "to render the Constitution of the Federal government adequate to the exigencies of the union."

Hamilton then was less than 30 years old. He had been born out of wedlock on the British island of Nevis, in the West Indies. At 12 years of age, he was manager of a merchantile establishment on the Island of St. Croix, now a part of the American Virgin Islands. A year or so later, he had become a mild literary celebrity in America, due to the publication of a letter he wrote to an American acquaintance graphically describing a hurricane that harried his vulnerable island.

According to ancient police records available in St. Croix during the 1930s, his mother was jailed on a morals charge—that she lived with a man not her husband. These records did not disclose whether she actually served time, or, if so, how long.

She was a high-born woman, victim of a tragic marriage to a Dane, deeply in love with a Scot, and unable to obtain a divorce under English law.

This illegitimate child later was to shape, masterfully and inexorably, the fiscal and financial policies of the United States down to the very present day.

A flame of brilliance, like the multi-colored hummingbirds of the Virgin Islands, surrounded him. He mastered several languages, and was fluent in French. Through the aid of American friends he entered a preparatory school at Elizabeth, N. J., and in 1774 entered King's College, now Columbia University. He threw his tremendous energies and brilliant talent into the Revolutionary cause, and two anonymous pamphlets that he wrote were attributed at the time to the great John Jay. They reacted through the colonies like dynamite.

Hamilton organized an artillery company, fought as its captain with distinguished bravery under Nathaniel Greene; joined Gen. Washington's staff in 1777 with the rank of lieutenant colonel; and served for four years as Washington's private secretary and confidential aide.

Along with his brilliance, there were definite weaknesses in his character; he had an exaggerated belief in his military prowess that more than once evoked a sharp reprimand from the general. He was over-ambitious. He lacked the background of the American colonists, who had been rooted in English traditions; and in the soil of America for more than a century and a half. He was vainglorious, perhaps from a deep inferiority complex; touchy and difficult to handle.

The Continental Congress endorsed the Virginia plan on February 21. All of the 13 states except Rhode Island sent delegates to the epochal Philadelphia convention.

NORTHPORT, N. Y., OBSERVER: "In Italy. . . . a state-imposed guaranteed annual wage has caused mass unemployment. Employers hesitate to take on the responsibilities of hiring new workers. The largest power company stretches out a five-year building program to 10 or 15 years to avoid the liability of hiring new crews. The manufacturer of Italy's fast selling new motor scooters prefers to pay overtime wages at double and triple rates—to hiring new workers who would come under the GAW. The same thing could happen here."

'Straight Talk'

Hebert, La.

Editor, Morning World:

The southern Negro has made a good start with his Communist friends. My duties are to speak out. A shadow has been cast across the program.

Their kind of propaganda is less effective now than in the past because millions of straight thinking Americans understand its true. The purpose is to soften the mind of the Negro for even harder blows to follow.

All this means that there is a frightening Communist aiding influence before the eyes of the people, but you know how bravely the colonists faced dangers from Indians and the hardships of settling a new land. Purity stood for clean living and worship of God. Justice was what they fought for in the Revolutionary war; these three qualities laid the ground work for America.

Racial segregation will never be compulsory for the Negro no where in the world. This blessed goal of Negro history will never be reached through any law of natural progress. You'll be caught in the squeeze between today and tomorrow. Will science ever stop man from death? Can science push God from the earth? I cannot share the general secret agreements giving away American rights of innocent peoples from one nation to another. The American Constitution guarantees equal rights for all, but segregation is the Master Plan.

As for me, for the fear of saying or doing the wrong thing. I just make sure I know what I am talking about. We need organization of people with good leadership and fight back with, vote by the people. Certainly we can put a limit to the influence and work of this dirty ring. The average reader, of course, realized what the blast of this means. Good bye U. S. A. But the truth crushed to earth will rise again.

Prof. Killian's Analysis

Bastrop, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I have just now finished reading the fine editorial in the September 4, 1955, edition of the Morning World. I think that every true-blue southerner should read and remember this editorial and associate the principles thereof with every feature of true southern Democracy.

Professor Killian wrote the most thorough analysis of the Supreme Court decision of May 17, 1954, that I have ever read. "The NAACP is only one of many pressure organizations and agencies, some of them operating within the government itself, to browbeat or seduce the south into "compliance" with the revolutionary legislation enacted by the Supreme Court, which usurped the role of Congress and enacted a fiat, a so-called law, based upon Freudian theories and psychoanalysis, lacking even one sound precedent in the past decisions of the court, back to the days of John Marshall; ignoring and flaunting an unbroken line of decisions running almost to the infancy of the Republic, on which all law - abiding Americans foolishly had relied".

A more thorough and correct indictment of the Supreme Court, could not possibly be formulated. If we could get a few distinguished and capable leaders like professor Killian, our anguish would soon be over with. I agree with Mr. Killian that segregation is not the result of neurosis, neither is desegregation a panacea for the ailment, but, that segregation is the forthright edict of sound judgment. "Free association" with some factors may resolve some cases of neurosis, but forced association of Negroes and whites, will never get the job done; it's too much like throwing dry hay on a burning fire.

Lynchings And 'Moiders'

Ruston, La.

Editor, Morning World:

Usually when a white man kills a Negro below the Mason Dixon line our Northern neighbors brand it as a lynching. Up north they brush it off as a "moider" or just "wiped out." As expected, the mysterious death of the Chicago Negro boy, Emmet Till, was instantly blasted as a lynching.

The State of Mississippi now finds itself under the threat of a triumvirate of rulers: The Federal Government, Communists, and NAACP. By remote control the Communists no doubt will play the leading roll in scandalizing. In a way, the Ruling of the U. S. Supreme Court has left our Federal authorities subservient to the Communists, and the NAACP as a loudspeaker.

These murders or lynchings, whatever they may call them, are more repugnant to the fine people of the South than they are to those maudlin trouble provokers that don't care what becomes of the Negro. The majority of the colored people now know that the Communists are trying to use them as a tool to destroy this country so the Reds may take over. This would cause the Negro to lose every thing he has ever gained.

With bitter disgust I read in my morning paper how the Gov. of Illinois, also mayor of Chicago turned their wrath on the South for this Mississippi lynching. Anyone from Illinois, expecially Chicago, should never point an accusing finger at the South for lynchings. Chicago placed a stigma on this nation unexcelled. One man and his henchmen lynched over 500 men. They lynched 367 in one year.

The man was the notorious Al Capone. The Chicago police force was on his payroll. The mayor evidently closed his eyes and remained aloof. The State of Illinois never executed a human being for any of these lynchings. (They were lynchings because they were carried out by a gang of men). Instead, the state paroled 8,000 convicts at this time ostensibly to make it a lynching convention. Ultimately, they sent this gangster to Alcatraz; but not for any of these lynchings. Al Capone failed to divide that bloodmoney with Uncle Sam.

As long as there are Piltdown men who molest virtuous women there will be mysterious deaths, call them what you may. No law can stop this. No law can stop lightning from starting fire in a forest.

THOMAS A. HILTON.

Letters To Patients

Archibald, La.

Editor, Morning World:

I would like to call attention to the families and friends of patients who have spent time in hospitals. Remember them by writing— and with get - well cards or just a plain post card with a cheerful message. It helps so much.

After spending two months in a Shreveport hospital this last June and July I learned what the mail call can really mean. I will always cherish the large box of get-well cards I received, but feel sorry for many of the patients who didn't receive anything. I could see the hurt on many of their faces as each day they didn't receive any mail.

You may be sure that the doctors and nurses are doing their part to restore the patient's health, but also remember you can do your part too — by writing.

Administration Faces Tax Dilemma In 1956

Those new campaign taxbooks which the Republican campaign directors are preparing won't contain any chapter titled "How to Cut Taxes and Balance the Budget," but many of the readers will be wondering how that can be done. For the present outlook is that problem will be the most confusing confronting the Eisenhower administration next year.

GOP leaders have spoken guardedly of a reduction, at least in personal income taxes, to an extent which has led their Democratic opposite numbers to start talking about a tax bill of their own, since they control congress and consequently the house ways and means committee, with Rep. Jere Cooper of Tennessee as chairman.

A secondary question which may divide the GOP even more than that of "to cut or not to cut" is whether individuals or corporations are to receive the break. And if individuals, are wealthy taxpayers to receive the same proportionate reduction as the smaller fry?

Rumors from inside the treasury have been that some of the advisors of Secretary George M. Humphrey insist that the cut on individual taxes, if any, should be across the board, meaning that all taxpayers be treated alike. This would seem to be sound reasoning, but numerous Republicans in congress have viewed such a move as politically dangerous. There are several ways around this dilemma, but none of them offer anything very handsome in the way of a present for the taxpayers. And cuts for both individuals and corporations would probably mean a loss in revenue of at least 4½ billion dollars, which in turn would probably mean a federal deficit of at least that much for the fiscal year 1957.

Some administration tax advisors are said to have cautiously suggested raising personal tax exemptions by another $100, or from $600 to $700, and approving the cut in corporation taxes which was scheduled for April 1 of this year, but was postponed until the same date in 1956.

This would ignore the cut in excise taxes, also scheduled for next April, which also was postponed this year. If this cut were included, it would increase the minimum tax reduction now discussed to at least 5.5 billion dollars — 2½ billion for individuals, 2 billion for corporations and 1 billion for excise.

For a country which expects this year to collect 62 billions in taxes, a 5½ billion cut might seem comparatively modest, but the treasury faces the prospect of not only being unable to cut the next budget much, but of seeing it increase by at least 2½ billions, if the president asks for health, highway and school construction programs, as he seems to do.

If congress were to agree that no tax cut at all is possible in the face of new outlays for public welfare — and that is not likely — taxpayers might accept the verdict without outward protest, but whether the Republican ticket would be hurt is a question which the GOP textbook can't answer.

The largest cut so far suggested, which is 10 per cent for all individual taxpayers, would cut revenues by an approximate 3 billion dollars. That does not include the corporate and excise cuts already authorized for next April 1.

If Secretary Humphrey were to review the approach to tax reduction by the late Andrew W. Mellon, his predecessor during the last prosperous Republican administration in the mid '20s, he might take a chance that substantial tax cuts would increase tax revenues materially, as Mellon did.

But that was before taxes were so high that any such increase seems both impossible and illogical.

WHERE'S THE FIRE?

WAYNESBORO, Va. —(AP)— Raymond T. Hunter was serving as a member of a jury when the procedure was interrupeted by sirens and clanging fire engines. Police Sgt. M. N. Hughes was called out but returned shortly to inform the court of the location of the fire Judge C. G. Quesenbery recessed court—it was Hunter's home burning.

BONILLAS HONORED

TUCSON, Ariz. — (AP)— A new elementary school has been named in honor of Ignacio Bonillas, son of a Mexican blacksmith, who rose from bootblack to Mexican ambassador to the United States. Bonillas was born in Mexico in 1858, graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology, served as governor of Magdalena district in Mexico and mayor Nogales, Sonora, Mexico. He was Mexican ambassador to the United States from 1917 to 1920 and was defeated for president of Mexico by Gen. Alvaro Obregon in 1920. He died in 1944.

GONE WITH THE WIND

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Businessmen of suburban Standale launched 200 toy balloons, each carrying the offer of a prize to its finder. A few days later they received a postcard from Mrs. R. Carl Pencil, of Bedford, Pa., who said she found one of the balloons. Even though she's slightly out of the trading area, Mrs. Pencil will get her prize.

REFRESHER COURSE

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Among the 30 future mothers who showed up at St. Mary's hospital for the six weekly sessions designed to help them cope with the problems of pregnancy was a registered nurse, a former member of the hospital staff. "I could learn something, too," she said.

Lights Over Broadway

Probe Bono Publico: If you're wondering why no really big names were called during the recent House probe into Red infiltration of show biz and TV, it's because the top Democrat leadership (aided and abetted by GOP "liberals") put the quietus on it. The Democrats who now control Congress planned to let the whole commie mess fade away, but suddenly realized that next year is an election year and they'll have to fight it out on the "party of treason" label. But the probers were ordered to go as easy as possible, not embarrass any "important" commentators, program executives, casting agents, producers etc., but to use the standard list long ago compiled by the old Dies and Velde committees and the FBI. In fact, one Democratic member of the present committee told me and my late wife that he thought the Communist issue was a GOP bogey man.

Little Dissa, Less Data: Gertrude Niesen and Al Greenfield again denying rumors . . . Next to visit Moscow, former Premier Mendes - France . . . Bobo Rockefeller's pals say she's serious about sculptor Nicky Tregor and so what? . . . But Winthrop's latest heart throb, Jeanette Edris, is making with the goo-goo eyes at a wealthy Venezuelan oilman . . . Jane Russell enrolled in a Gotham drama school. (What's she have to act for?)

Last Year's Headlines Are Today's Gossip Items: Deanna Durbin's ex, producer Felix Jackson, who was quietly married to Ilka Windisch, a Viennese actress recently, but I suppose you read it elsewhere . . . So many wolves have Grace Kelly's private phone number she's driving the company nutty changing it. (What's the new one, Gracie?) . . . Those dolls at the Harwyn were Goldwyn Girls, Joan Darlyn and June Kirby in town to drum up biz for "Guys and Dolls." Their guys were Dave Kislak and Kenneth Berg. Plenty lucky . . . John Teeter, of the Runyon Fund, is a partner in Autocue, the TV prompter, and from now on the Walter Winchell Foundation (for charity) gets five percent of the profits . . . Ben Goffstein (mentioned here as the new show business czar of Las Vegas) was street circulation man on the Albany Times Union 25 years ago when The Mirror's W. M. Thompson worked there.

How Corny Can You Get: A Chicago critic flipped like this over Maggie Whiting's latest platter — "She caresses every note and makes it sound like she's having an affair with the lyric" . . . I know a Commie TV star who not only hid behind the Fifth — he drank it! (O. K. I'm leaving.)

Nothing from Nowhere: Lanza's only contract is three years with RCA Victor. (Poor guy, let's start a benefit.) . . . Sign in an Acapulca rooming house: "Marilyn and Joe slept here." . . . Arthur Maisel who owns the "state" restaurants, like the Floridian, New Yorkan etc., planning to call his next "The Brooklyn." Could be the first move to make it the 49th state, at that . . . Oleg Cassini dating Harold Lloyd's daughter, Peggy, on the Coast . . . Stuart Cramer 3rd celebrating his Hollywood division from film pretty, Jean Peters, with Gloria Marshall, the pretty Dorothy Preble model . . . When Jules Podell reopens his Copacabana on the 8th you'll think Audrey Hepburn is dancing in the line. But it's Sandra Rehn, and she's prettier.

Tins, But Not Siamese: The most fabulous sisters in Gotham (anyway, on Second Ave.) are the famed Baxter Twins who first popularized "Who's got the Toni?" They were WAVES, appeared in TV, and are now the best video brains in the business. Their hobby is sports. You can always tell what sports season it is by their dates, such as ball players, football players, tennis pros and golfers. No basketball or hockey. The pretties are identical twins and the nicest kids. They have just received a fantastic offer as casting directors and production assistants for a California studio. But I hope they'll turn it down and take similar jobs in New York. Because what could we do without the belles of Second Ave.?

Just a Few Days More, Then Walter: I probably printed it before, but disc jock Bill Silbert and model Cindy Bayne are still spinning at the same old speed . . . Remember Little Jackie Heller, the wonderful warbler? He's hosting at Brown's in the Catskills and is so swell he oughta get a Vegas spot. Everyone's raving about the big time dance rhythms of Nat Brooks, whose music keeps Brown's customers spellbound . . . Wonder what became of Karen Dane, the Lat. ¼ showgal? She gets her diploma this week as a fashion designer . . . Today's Eileen Barton Item: Music publisher Ivan Mogull.

Lucky Seymour: Wolves going crazy trying to date lovely Evelyn Patrick since the ovation here, so this is just to tell them that the TV beaut is former Sen. Seymour Halpern's steady. Halpern, by the way, is the new czar of New York's giant Moving, Storage and Warehouse Industry after 14 years in the Legislature, during which time he had a record number of laws passed. (And all good.) One of his measures whic was not enacted, however, was a bill calling for a probe of the crime syndicate a year before Kefauver knew what a gangster is.

Whooping Cranes' Perilous Flight Starts Soon

The world's last flock of Whooping cranes will be on the move again; Their fall migration from Canada to Texas--always a dramatic event--will have new significance this year.

For the first time in the history of recent efforts to preserve this rarest of North American birds, the exact breeding grounds of some of the birds are known and young-of-the-year have been observed and counted prior to their departure southward. This means that wildlife officials will be able to determine more accurately than ever before the nature and extent of any losses along the 2500 mile migration highway.

This past summer field biologists of the Canadain Wildlife Service, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and National Audubon Society succeeded in locating what is apparently the bulk of the breeding flock of whooping cranes in a remote wilderness in northwest Canada, thus ending a ten year search. In addition to aerial surveys, a ground party, after a month of failure, finally reached the vicinity of the nests and made important studies of the general habitat and its wildlife.

In subsequent surveys from the air a total of five young whooping cranes had been counted as of the first week of August – youngsters that were hatched in June and will not be big enough to fly before sometime in September, when they must join the adult birds on the hazardous flight south. The all-important question in the minds of conservationists now is: how many of these young whooping cranes will get safely through to the wintering grounds on the Texas coast?

It is of special interest that two sets of "twins" are included in this year's additions to the ranks of this rare species. In the previous 16 years the record shows that only seven sets of twins have been reported on the winter range at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Austwell, Texas. Only once, in the winter of 1939-40, have as many as two adult pairs reached the area with two youngsters each.

In spite of the tremendous public interest that has been aroused in recent years, this brave little flock of giant birds has barely held its own. Since 1939 a total of 60 young have been brought safely to Aransas Refuge while 56 cranes, adults and young alike, have been counted as lost during the same period.

It is believed that most of these losses take place during migration, particularly in the fall when hunters are out along the flight lines. Except for those losses that stem from natural causes, dangers on the northern breeding grounds and on the Texas wintering grounds are slight, although the Air Force has plans to establish a photo-flash bombing range on the southern end of Matagorda Island and in surrounding waters adjacent to the Aransas Refuge. The National Audubon Society has protested the location of the bombing range.

As the human population has increased in many regions along the migration route, losses in the whooping crane flock have increased also. The critical areas are evidently the portholes and prairies of southern Saskatchewan, the reaches of the upper Missouri River in the Dakotas, sandbars on the Platte River in Nebraska, the salt plains of southern Kansas and northern Oklahoma, and the Red River between Oklahoma and Texas.

People in the vicinity of these areas and elsewhere along the migration route should be alerted to the role that they can play in helping to prevent the accidental or willful shooting of these magnificent birds, which are protected by law in both the United States and Canada. Communities along the crane flyway might well take pride in fostering a sense of local responsibility in this campaign. State and provincial conservation departments, civic groups, Audubon Societies, garden clubs, sportsmen's organizations such as Ducks Unlimited, Scout and Campfire groups, farm clubs and many other groups have already given valuable service in publicising the urgency of the situation and the need for caution among all those who go afield with a gun.

Last fall, for the first time since protection efforts began, the whooping cranes (21 of them) came back to Texas without a single young bird to add to their dwindling numbers. Will the five young that have been raised this season be spared or are they to be thoughtlessly and needlessly destroyed as they attempt to cross western Canada and central United States to their ancestral winter home on the Texas coast?

This is a challenge that can be met only by those who live close to the migratory route, especially residents of Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas. The National Audubon Society appeals to you to help by speaking to your friends and neighbors. Ask them not to shoot at any large white bird – and to pass the word along. Please do it now; The cranes begin to leave Canada in September; the migration continues throughout October; and by late November the last stragglers usually have reached the Aranas Refuge in Texas.

Let's make it a safe flight for the cranes this fall – without the loss of a single bird; Will you do your part to save the majestic whooping cranes for the America of tomorrow?

Bodyguards Stood Watch Over The Dying Kingfish

20 Years Ago Yesterday A Louisiana Political Empire Began To Die A Bit

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — An empire began to die, just a little bit, around 4 a.m., 20 years ago yesterday. It was Sen. Huey Long's political empire in Louisiana.

It began to die, I think, in Our Lady of the Lake Hospital in Baton Rouge a moment after Long himself died there from a bullet wound, and before he was cold. I was in the hospital at the time.

On Sunday night, Sept. 8, 1935, he walked down a hallway of the Louisiana State Capitol accompanied as always by his bodyguards, who later said this is what happened then:

Dr. Carl Austin Weiss, a physician, walked up to Long and shot him. The bodyguards riddled Weiss to death on the spot. Long was taken to the nearby hospital and died there at 4:10 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 10.

Long's was the most complete political machine in America in our time. He controlled it, from the State Legislature and the state police on down to the sheriffs.

It was terrible power for one man to have. And Long's bodyguards, who were on the state payroll, were the symbol of it.

They had a long record of beating up reporters and photographers who worked for newspapers Long didn't like. Their assaults varied from fracturing a skull with a blackjack to smashing a face with a fist.

The ones they hated most were Times-Picayune, which had fought Long for years. It was a perilous expedition for one of them to approach Long to ask a question or take a picture.

The newspaper finally ordered them not to try. George Healy, then city editor and now editor of the T-P, recalled this week over long-distance telephone: "For a while the beatings averaged two or three a month."

I worked on the T-P then and early on the morning of Sept. 10, when we heard Long was slipping, I was sent to the hospital to keep a death watch. Arrangements were made with the hospital to let me in.

I couldn't have gone in, otherwise. Bodyguards stood shoulder to shoulder on the hospital steps. Thirty or 40 of them sat in the chairs in the hospital lobby, and two more endlessly went around trying the doors in the basement and examining the hallways.

They seemed afraid, even with Long dying, that one of his many enemies might break in or sneak in to finish off the senator on his deathbed.

Another reporter and I were allowed a telephone in a small office next to the lobby. Long was upstairs in a room on the second floor. We couldn't go up. The guards watched us steadily.

A woman reporter, friendly with the bodyguards, sat outside our office. We sat out there too, to see what happened in the lobby. Around 3 a.m., Long's family and his chief lieutenants came in hurriedly and went upstairs.

At 4:10 a.m. or a little later one of Long's men from upstairs came down. I don't know whether he gave the bodyguards a sign or they saw something in his face. But they jumped to their feet.

The Long man leaned over the woman reporter to whisper. I tried to hear. He said:

"Get back, you." I got back. But I heard him say: "He's dead." I had to be sure and the only place to be sure was on the second floor.

I ran for the stairs. The whole lobbyful of guards ran for the stairs. I was squeezed in tight, trying to go up. I couldn't move. I thought: "This is where I get it." A strange thing happened.

The bodyguards who an hour before might have thrown me down the stairs fell back and let me through. No one said anything to me. We all went up the stairs together, walking, no running, with me in front.

Later, I thought: Long had been their link with the fantastic political machine which was their protection and their bread and butter. And now he was dead and the link was broken.

In the rush to the stairs they acted for the first time without Long around to guide and save them in whatever they did and, without him, suddenly they felt alone, each of the mindividually, and uncertain.

Their power had been diminished and it was diminsihed more as time went on.

YOUNG CHURCH GROWING FAST—Here is shown a picture of St. Paul's Methodist Church with sketch as approved by the official board.

St. Paul's Church Receives Master Plan For Building

A master plan to guide St. Paul's Methodist Church in its future expansion has been finished and approved by the official board. The plan is designed by the architectural firm of H. H. Land and Son.

The plan provides for the location of the permanent church sanctuary to built north of the present buildings facing Lexington avenue. Other portions of the plan call for future development of church school, classrooms, a church parlor, library, chapel, and administrative offices. A parking lot is planned to provide space for two hundred automobiles. The present sanctuary will become a social hall when the new sanctuary is eventually built.

The first step in the plan calls for the immediate extension of the children's wing of the building with a fenced playground and a space for the daily nursery and kindergarten schools, and the building of a youth wing with a recreation room, Boy Scout room, hobby room, patio and playground facilities.

Bids for this first addition are to be received on September 16th by the building committee, and it is hoped that construction may begin by the end of September.

The new expansion program of the church began last fall when the congregation pledged $85,000 to buy additional property, build more classroom space for the church school, and furnish the present building.

Recently the church purchased a 300 foot by 300 foot lot north of its present location on Lexington and Orell. The acquisition of this property gives the church a 600 foot frontage on Lexington with the property bounded by Orell, Milton and Morgan streets.

Protests Made To Rail Service Ruling By Panel

FARMERVILLE, Sept. 10 (Special) — The communities of Farmerville, Marion and other interested parties filed by mail today a protest against a ruling made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington on August 15 to discontinue the Missouri Pacific railroad line between Farmerville and Litroe.

The line is approximately 22 miles long.

A late move on the part of the town of Farmerville was to join with the Union parish police jury and offer to reduce the railroad company's taxes some $10,000 thereby to negotiate a commenserate reduction to offset losses the railroad company reports that it has suffered.

Harvey G. Fields, attorney for business interests in Farmerville, said that he felt sure that officials would support the plan.

The Missouri Pacific asked that it be able to abandon the line due to losses suffered in the operation.

Fields said that the group he represented was asking for a rehearing by the Interstate Commission to refute claims made by the railroad. Fields said that they included claims that timber was getting short in Union parish, which he said was disqualified by figures produced by the assessor's office that Union parish ranked second or third in the state in timber production. The second point Fields pointed out was that sand and gravel was not on a decline in the parish and that figures presented by the state highway department showed that road work in the parish was still in its infancy.

The Farmerville attorney also pointed out that the town of Farmerville would have no railroad service if the line was discontinued. Also that the present Missouri Pacific trucking system now in progress might also be discontinued.

A unanimous endorsement was given to the motion for re-hearing by more than 200 people. Other lawyers working on the matter are A. P. Rabun, of Farmerville, B. K. Watson, representing the town of Marion, and William Logan Crowe, of Monroe, representing the railroad union.

Franklin Parish Schools Slated To Open Monday

WINNSBORO, Sept. 10 (Special) — Franklin Parish white schools, which includes eight high schools and one elementary school, will begin the 1955-56 school session Monday, September 12, and operate on a short schedule for the first six weeks, W. B. Glover, superintendent of education, said today.

To enable children to help their parents harvest the cotton crop, schools will open at 8 a. m. and close at one p. m. for the first six weeks.

Franklin parish Negro schools will open on September 21. They were scheduled to begin Monday but due to the fact that several new buildings and additions are incomplete the opening was postponed until the 21st.

Salvation Army Sets Stage For Transient Home

Because of the many men and women passing through Monroe, broke and hungry, the Salvation Army Advisory board under the leadership of its Advisory Board Chairman, Kenneth Blue, investigated the possibilities and need for a lodge where these folks could find rest and food.

Blue appointed Lester Carr Chairman of the Transient committee to check further the possibilities of securing such a place in Monroe.

After looking at several properties available, Carr and his committee decided on the property directly in back of the Salvation Army headquarters' building.

This property was purchased and is now being readied for occupancy by winter. Preparations for such an opening are costly, and in some alterations even prohibited. The Northeast Louisiana Electrical Contractors' association learned of the need of rewiring and volunteered to do the complete job free of charge.

Clyde Cheeks, president of the association appointed Curtis Freeman be in charge of the project.

Materials were donated by Collins Electric company, Monroe Hardware company and Weaks Supply.

School Board In Madison Votes To Call Bond Issue

TALLULAH, Sept. 10—(Special)—At the September meeting of the Madison Parish School Board the group voted to take steps for a special bond issue by requesting permission from the state Attorney General to employ Chapman and Cutler, bond attorneys of Chicago.

It was also voted to request the State Bond and Tax Board to hold the election and to retain Willia, Kiag Stubbs as architect, contingent on the passage of the bond issue.

Mrs. J. H. Bryant and David DeRossett were elected to teach in the Tallulah School. Miss Christine Kitchens was granted a leave of absence until the end of the first semester.

It was voted to discontinue the Talla Bena School and to transport the pupils to the Reuben McCall School in Tallulah.

The board voted to extend old age and survivors insurance coverage to all employees of the Madison Parish School Board who are now ineligible for membership in the state retirement system.

$13 Million In Industry Building Applications To Be Considered Monday

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 10—UP—The state board of commerce and industry will consider approval of $13 million in industrial applications for construction projects when it meets here Monday.

Elmer D. Conner, executive director of the department, said the applications will be considered under provisions of the state's 10 year tax exemption plan. It is designed to encourage industrial expansion by allowing new industries relief from ad valorem taxes during the first 10 years of operation.

The U. S. Gypsum Co. has filed an application under the plan to build a $5.7 million plant in the New Orleans area. Company officials say the plant will be built to meet new marketing conditions centering in New Orleans.

A $4.2 million expansion is planned by the International Paper Co. at its Springhill plant and the company is seeking tax relief under the state program.

The board will also study requests of 62 firms seeking renewal of their 1950 contracts for the second half of the exemption period.

Other new building applications include:

Basile Rice Drier, Basile, $40,000; J. B. Baird Co., Inc., Shreveport, $63,185 and $152,433; Bird and Son, Inc., of Shreveport, $282,000; Copolymer Rubber and Chemical Corp. of Baton Rouge, $115,740; Crown Sheet Metal Works of New Orleans, $10,000; and Empire Menhaden Co. of Empire, $230,870.

Question Of Whether Mother Of Slain Negro Boy Will Testify Bounces About

SUMNER, Miss., Sept. 10 (AP) — The mother of a Chicago Negro boy will testify at the trial of two white Mississippi men charged with kidnaping and murdering him.

Roy Bryant, 24, and his half-brother, J. W. Milam, 35, will stand trial Sept. 19 on a charge of murdering 14-year-old Emmett Louis Till, who was visiting his uncle in Money, Miss.

William Henry Huff, attorney for the mother, Mrs. Mamie Bradley, said today in Chicago she definitely would be on hand for the trial.

Huff said the fact that Mrs. Bradley had been put under subpoena as a state witness was assurance of satisfactory protection.

Earlier, Huff said he had asked the U. S. Justice Department to assign FBI agents to protect her during the trial. Mrs. Bradley also had asked for two Chicago detectives as bodyguards.

Dist. Atty. Gerald Chatham, who will prosecute the case, called the bodyguard proposal "absurd."

"If they're trying to make a farce out of this trial, that's a good way to go about it," Chatham said. "We offered her any reasonable protection. She won't need any at all, as far as that goes."

Chatham said a subpoena was issued to the mother as a routine matter. However, it can not be served on her unless she comes to Mississippi as it is not valid outside the state.

Chatham said last week he would like Mrs. Bradley to testify.

Meanwhile, Gov. Hugh White formally assigned a special assistant attorney general to help Chatham, at the district attorney's request.

"The people of Mississippi are anxious to see justice done in this case according to the law and the evidence," he said, "and as governor I am glad to provide special counsel as evidence of our good faith in this prosecution."

Atty. Gen. J. P. Coleman, who will succeed White as governor next January, earlier had named a former FBI agent, Robert B. Smith III of Ripley, special assistant attorney general. The governor then assigned him to the case.

Circuit judge Curtis Swango will take the first step in prosecution of the case when he draws a special jury panel of 125 men Monday. Women do not serve on juries in Mississippi.

The state will try Bryant and Milam first on the murder indictment, skipping a kidnaping indictment until later. The maximum penalty for murder is death in the gas chamber. The minimum is life in prison.

Bryant and Milam are accused of kidnaping young Till from his uncle's home in the early morning hours of Aug. 28 and murdering him because he whistled and allegedly made obscene remarks to Mrs. Bryant in the Bryan store at nearby Money.

Landy Case

is not an appeal of the earlier turndown. The board convened at 5 p.m. and adjourned at 6:30. It will reconvene again tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Landy, at sea aboard an oil tanker, had hoped to reach port in time for the 10 a.m. time set for the hearing.

But low tide, a mud bank and a heavy cargo of fuel forced his ship to anchor only 10 feet from its dock, at Marcus Hook, Pa., and await the rising tide.

Landy got ashore at 1 p.m. and hurriedly boarded a train for Newark, arriving shortly before 4 p.m. In a brief interview in his lawyer's office there before leaving by auto for Brooklyn, Landy repeated previous statements that he is "reasonably confident" the board will find in his favor, and that he knows of nothing in his record which would reflect on his qualifications as a naval officer.

Landy was refused a reserve commission last month when he graduated with top honors from the U. S. Merchant Marine Academy because of his mother's former membership in the Communist party. No question of Landy's loyalty was raised.

Landy signed on as a crew member of a tanker amid public protests on his behalf.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas, promising "justice," appointed a special board to review the case. The three-man board will report to Thomas who will make the final decision.

Landy's mother, Mrs. Deborah Landy of Bradley Beach, N. J., said she had quit the Communist party in 1947, after 10 years, at the insistence of her son.

Communist China

program for negotiation — the prisoners and "other matters of interest to both sides."

The "other matters" will be taken up by Johnson and Wang next Wednesday, after they seek instructions from their governments.

It is expected that Wang will seek to get the United States and other United Nations members to relax their embargo against trade to Red China. He also is likely to ask the admission of the Peiping government to the UN.

It was emphasized that the negotiations do not mean that the United States is recognizing the Peiping government.

But officials in Washington, commenting on the agreement, said it almost certainly will lead to a further relaxation of tension between the United States and Red China.

As part of Saturday's agreement, the Chinese Reds named Great Britain, which has recognized them, as its agent to assist in the repatriation of Americans.

India will act as United States' agent in assisting in the repatriation of those Chinese students who may want to go to the Communist-ruled Chinese mainland.

Chinese delegate Wang said in his communique on the agreement: "...The Americans who have been held in jail or under house arrest will be released and sent to Hong Kong within a few days."

It was emphasized here and in Washington that the repatriation agreement covers only American civilians.

Several hundred Americans who fought in Korea still are unaccounted for. They are carried officially on the military rolls as "missing." Whether any of them are in Red China has not been determined.

included Reps. Joe Holt (R-Calif.), who came back from Moscow protesting that a Soviet soldier pulled a gun on him, and Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif.), who came back complaining that the American embassy in Moscow looks like a "pig pen." He blamed congressional penury.

Others listed included Reps. James L. Dolliver (R-La.), Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.), Oren Harris (D-Ark.) and John J. Rhodes (R-Ariz.).

What all the congressional travel in Russia will cost the American taxpayer is impossible to estimate at this time. Some are traveling at their own expense. Others presumably will submit bills for their expenses when they return.

Surprise Attack Issue Dominates UN Arms Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 10 (AP)—A down-to-earth study of ways to prevent massive surprise attacks with thermonuclear weapons dominated the second week of talks in the U. N. Disarmament subcommittee.

After eight closed-door sessions of top representatives of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union, the situation shaped up today roughly this way:

U. S. Envoy Harold E. Stassen put on the shelf all disarmament plans championed by the United States before the Geneva conference of the Big Four. Now he is developing the Eisenhower disarmament plan. This is firmly anchored on the principle that the first agreement must come on a system of inspection to prevent surprise raids.

The Soviet Union representative, Arkady A. Sobolev, stood pat on Moscow's May 10 program of disarmament. The West is not buying it. Sobolev has not given Moscow's definitive answer to President Eisenhower's program for an exchange of military blueprints and aerial inspections between the United States and Russia.

The United States and Britain told Russia they would not agree to a Russian proposal that thermonuclear weapons be used only for defense against aggression on decision by the U. N. Security Council. They objected this would subject the bombs to a veto.

Anthony Nutting of Britain, Jules Moch of France and Paul Martin of Canada, are studying the new American program with great interest. Mostly they are silent. Moch indicated, however, there was some good in the pre-Geneva plans and he is not prepared to leave them on the shelf. Stassen has explained the pre-Geneva plan could be picked up again, or they could be left alone, or they could be used in part.

Sobolev and Stassen agreed there is a danger some nuclear power could mount a surprise attack and there must be ways to prevent it. Sobolev wants inspectors put at major ports, transportation centers, and airports. Stassen says this is not enough, that there must be overflights to make pictures of vast areas to see if concentrations of planes or missiles are being built and there must be thorough ground inspection.

This fear of surprise attack was the reason for the Stassen freeze on pre-Geneva plans. The United States and Russia realize the scientific developments have gone so far it is impossible for the best scientific instrument to determine the presence of a thermonuclear bomb 100 feet away once it is in its casing. If the material is spread out the instrument would tick madly. Once it is placed in a weapon or similarly insulated for concealment purposes it does not cause one tick.

Turk Minister

quarters in Istanbul, who took charge under the state of siege, was one of the three officers relieved yesterday. The others were Lt. Gen. Fasil Bilge, commander of the 3rd Corps, and Brig. Gen. Nedim Erensoy, 1st Army chief of staff.

The Defense Ministry said in the communique the officers were removed from their commands after a full investigation of the rioting, destruction and looting that swept Istanbul. At least 3,000 persons have been arrested in this city alone on charges of looting and violence.

(Official Greek reports in Athens said the Greek Orthodox Church of Saint Nicholas at Alexandretta, in southwestern Turkey, was damaged last night by a dynamite explosion. These reports listed 78 churches—some of the Byzantine period—as destroyed or seriously damaged in the Turkish riots. They said 4,000 shops were ransacked or destroyed by mobs.

(Radio Belgrade said several shops owned by Yugoslavs were demolished in the disturbances. Windows of the Yugoslav consulate in Istanbul were smashed, it added, and several Yugoslavs were injured, Borba, Yugoslavia's chief Communist newspaper condemned the riots and expressed anxiety over their effects on the Balkan Alliance between Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia. However, Borba said, "It cannot be permitted that the Balkan Alliance should be averted by transitory difficulties in Greek-Turkish relations.")

The riots followed Greek demands that the eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus be given the right to vote on whether it wants union with Greece. Britain, which rules the island, opposes this course and the Turks violently support the British viewpoint.

Most of the inhabitants of Cyprus are of Greek origin but many are from Turkey. The Turks ruled the island before the British took it over.

RANCH FEVER

VANCOUVER (AP) — Carol Lucy Greene, daughter of novelist Graham Greene, is coming to British Columbia from England and hopes to become a rancher somewhere in Western Canada.

Her visit will last a month during which she will look over ranch land in the Alberta foothills and in B. C.

"I chose Canada because it is a young country and I like the wide open spaces," she said.

A Monroe man, residing here for 25 years, broke a record yesterday; he had his first shave in a barber shop for the second time in all these years. The other one was so long ago he had forgotten just when. Instead of 25 cents as the price, he was assessed three-quarters of a dollar.

Don't begin to think that he had a beard and whiskers that trailed down to earth for he shaved like other men but at home and by the virtue of his safety razor.

On this occasion, he overslept and got to work minus a shave and that started him to add to his past barber shaving record.

He entered a shop at 7:30 a.m. and climbed into a chair. "Want a shave," he told the only barber in the place who was at the time getting whiskers off his own face.

The barber quietly continued his own beautification process. "Say, what time do you start to shave the public?" the patron interrogated.

"We open up at 8:15 a.m." the barber replied.

"Well, I'm going to return later," the barber was told. But he really did return and got that shave. He told his family later about his experience.

Advertising people have a lingo all their own and "Advertising Age" tells of a young woman recruit who was quite upset when a client phoned about proof for a double - page spread.

"Is there still time," he asked anxiously, "to kill the widow bleeding in the gutter?"

In ad language, to "kill" is to omit entirely; widow is a single word on a line at the conclusion of a paragraph; a type line is said to "bleed" when it extends beyond an established margin and a "gutter" is the area between two facing pages.

The "Chicago Magazine" for September states as follows: "When a man is unable to govern his wife, his mother, his nurse, he takes special pleasure in running the universe." The author of this piece of philosophy is none other than Ellen Borden Stevenson, one - time wife of Adlai.

But possibly opposing this philosophy, Adlai has his comment on the fair sex to let loose through the September Woman's Home Companion. He takes a kindlier opinion of womankind than does his former spouse, but she is not running for office.

A Jewish Rabbi was telling a friend who chanced to be a member of a Baptist Church how in one of his Temple connections he was thrown with a Baptist pastor who became a close friend.

"Didn't he try to convert you to his faith?" was asked.

"No, indeed. Don't you know there is more than a single highway that leads in to Jerusalem?"

Negotiators Race Electrical Strike Deadline Tonight

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 10—UP — Two top-level union and management negotiators raced a Sunday midnight deadline Saturday in efforts to avert a nationwide sympathy strike among 44,000 CIO electrical workers at 28 Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, and R. D. Blasier, Westinghouse industrial relations vice president, kept going at it after local negotiators and federal negotiators gave up in a deadlock.

The IUE has threatened to shut down nearly half of the big electrical manufacturing firm's 58 plants because of a time-study project at Westinghouse's East Pittsburgh plant. Some 2,200 day-shift workers, protesting the efficiency survey of their jobs, walked out there Aug. 8 and forced the lay-off of some 8,000 other production and salaried employes.

Wages were not an issue in the dispute.

The IUE began polling its Westinghouse locals in a strike vote Wednesday. Robert Nellis, chairman of the IUE Westinghouse conference board, announced affirmative counts from 15 locals had given union officials full and final authority to call the walkout at 12:01 a. m. edt Sept. 12 if no settlement is reached by then. He said nine locals, most of them small units, had rejected the proposal. Several other IUE units were completing their balloting Saturday, but the outcome in those locals would not affect the final count, he said.

Carey flew here from Washington Friday and began a series of secret sessions with Blasier to overcome the deadlocked issue.

Some 16,000 workers already were idle, including the more than 10,000 at East Pittsburgh. The remainder are at six plants where IUE members walked out Thursday to protest disciplinary furloughs invoked by Westinghouse when employes left their jobs to participate in the strike vote.

The union protested the East Pittsburgh time study on grounds the company had no right to conduct the survey and declared the results would lead to the layoff of some 1,500 workers.

The company contended the union assertion was "ridiculous" and stated the time study could even result in the employment of "more" employes.

The IUE accepted a federal mediator's proposal to mediate the dispute, but Westinghouse turned it down. The company said it could never arbitrate an issue involving its "right to manage."

Westinghouse has more than 112,000 employes, but the walkout would affect plants only where the IUE has contracts.

Ike Says All Can 'Thank God' For Prisoner Release

DENVER, Sept. 10 —President Eisenhower said today "all of us can thank God" that more Americans will be released from Red China as the result of an agreement reached in Geneva.

He alluded to the Geneva announcement near the close of his talk to Republican state chairmen.

He expressed hope that even more Americans will be released soon to return to this country.

1. Bulganin flatly turned down Adenauer's demands for release of German war prisoners in the Soviet Union. He said 9,626 "so-called POW's" were really "war criminals," whose conviction by Soviet courts was "really an act of humanity."

2. The Soviet premier told Adenauer German reunification was not possible "in the near future" because of West German membership in NATO and the Western European Union. He said there was no point in further negotiations if the chancellor tried to negotiate "from a position of strength."

3. Adenauer told the Russians he is not prepared to reach immediate agreement with the Soviet Union on an exchange of ambassadors.

The conference appeared deadlocked—at least temporarily —with no success so far in bridging the enormous gap between the Soviet and West German positions. Saturday's formal session ended with no set plans for a new meeting.

A Tribute - -
To Our School Teachers!

Today, as no time before in history, the school teacher is recognized as the builder of tomorrow's America! With juvenile delinquency increasing apace, and foreign ideologies creeping into our school books, it is high time that glowing tribute was paid to these patient men and women who instruct our young. Let's remember that teachers are human beings, not machines. Let's give them the support and confidence they so richly deserve. Let's attend P-T-A meetings and contribute something more than children. This community is fortunate in having such fine schools and outstanding educators. We applaud their work and their good American achievements.

WAC Procurement Officer Schedules Interviews Here

Lt. Georgianna A. Durio, WAC Procurement Officer for Northeast Louisiana, is scheduled to be at the Monroe Army Recruiting Office, room 217, Post Office Building, on Septembe 21 and 22, to interview and test applicants for the Women's Army Corps.

To be eligible for enlistment in the WAC, applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 34, high school graduates or equivalent, unmarried, and have examinations, married, and have no dependents under 18 years of age. They also must pass mental and physical examinations, and have excellent reputations.

Lt. Durio explained that the Women's Army Corps has openings in over 150 jobs for qualified women, including photographer, draftsman, recreation supervisors, medical technicians, and stenographers. Enlistees will receive adequate training for the job of her choice.

Among the benefits offered members of the WAC are 30 days annual vacation with pay, above average pay, free medical and dental care, clothing, room and board without charge, opportunities for travel, education, and liberal retirement benefits.

Women who meet the requirements for enlistment will receive basic training at Ft. McClellan, Ala., after which they will be sent to one of the Army's numerous training school, or directly to their job, where they will receive on-the-job training.

The lieutenent pointed out that life at Ft. McClellan is similar to that of any campus. "The WAC Center with its tree-shaded lawn and modern dormitory buildings resembles a college campus more than a military installation," she said.

Women interested in a career in the WAC are urged to contact Lt. Durio during her visit to Monroe, or M-Sgt. Rudey Wooldridge or T-Sgt. Wayne Nordman, at the recruiting station, for additional information.

$154,396.48 Goes To Bus Operators' Fund

In order to guarantee the minimum salary schedule for school bus operators during the current school year, the Ouachita Parish School Board will receive $154,396.38 in the Special School Bus Operators' Fund, State Superintendent of Education Shelby M. Jackson, has announced.

"These funds," Jackson pointed out, "help to provide Louisiana with one of the finest transportation systems for school children in the nation."

The minimum salary schedule for school bus operators was set up by the 1954 legislature and amended by the 1955 legislature to provide an improved schedule.

Distribution of the funds was approved by the State Board of Education on August 29, 1955.

NEW STUDENT COUNCIL CONVENES—Discussing plans for the 1955-56 school term are members of the Northeast Louisiana State College student council who recently met at the home of A. L. aspects of the city entertaining an operating agreement or an outright sale arrangements and, the city council invite Louisiana Power and Light to submit these propositions and that in the interum a special citizens committee be appointed by the city council to investigate a long range background study from 1954 to the present on all facts of this matter plus a future survey of potential needs of the city for the next 25 years."

In the meantime, according to the Association letter, the merchants and the Monroe-West Monroe Chamber of Commerce and the Jaycees were left to cool their heels, while the Mayor and Councilman Huckaby, and their active and consultant engineering advisers, rushed to the television and radio in defense of the ailing power plant, with its frequent and costly blackouts and its admitted inefficiencies.

Concerning this, the letter signed by Mr. Silverstein declared:

"By innuendo, I am told by friends who watched the TV program, it was strongly indicated that the City Council reflected an utter stigma of antagonism at the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees and the Merchant group that had offered to aid the Council in investigating the Power plant."

The letter demanded a yes or no answer to its request: "Will the Mayor and City Council utilize a Citizens' Committee to go into the background of this matter on an impartial fact-finding study?

Chairman Silverstein emphasized yesterday that the paramount reason for the Merchants committee in its appearance before the City Council was to initially request that the city explore any and all avenues of working outside arrangements with the Louisiana Power and Light Company in order to safeguard against future costly inconveniences to the general citizenry with respect to the failure of the municipal power plant.

"I personally am not advocating the city immediately take steps to sell or lease the municipal power plant," "however, I do think that all avenues should be explored prior to subjecting the citizens of Monroe to a multimillion bond issue if the power plant is to remain under it's present type of management."

The Merchants Committee was very emphatic in its request that a full investigation of the entire situation be conducted through a citizens committee in order that a full up-to-date report might be presented in a businesslike manner on past operation, for the benefit of all citizens.

The letter follows:

September 9, 1955

Hon. John E. Coon, Mayor
City of Monroe
Hon. Wayne Huckaby, Commissioner
Streets and Parks-City of Monroe
Hon. Frank X. Cline, Commissioner
Finance & Utilities-City of Monroe
Hon. Wood Thompson, City Attorney
City of Monroe
Gentlemen:

On September 1, at 10:30 a.m. in the Mayor's office you will recall that a special session was held where certain local businessmen, Louisiana Power & Light officials and the members of the City Council met in a parley to discuss approaches of consideration bearing upon our City Electrical problems.

Prior to the adjournment of the meeting the assembled group of businessmen drew up a resolution (a copy of which was forwarded to all members of the City Council and the City Attorney) which requested legal opinions from the City Attorney and positive action by the Mayor relative to appointing a Citizens Committe to conduct a full investigation on the operations of the Power Plant along with a forecast for future needs.

Basically the resolution requested the City Attorney for legal opinions on the following points: "the legal aspects of the City of Monroe entertaining an operating agreement with the Louisiana Power & Light Company or an outright sale arrangement".

It has come to my atention that the City Attorney has orally reflected his opinions on the above points through his appearance on a special Television Panel over KNOE-TV, Monday, September 5th; at which time the City Council (devoid of Commissioner Cline) with the able assistance of a Consulting Engineer conducted a prime discussion on the power plant.

Our committee would appreciate receiving a written reply from the City Council bearing upon the requests set forth in the resolution as submitted. As this group appeared before the council as a nonpartisan body without regard to politics, creed or social status. . . . we feel that we are entitled to the courtesy of a reply regardless of what decision the City Attorney and City Council has reached.

By innuendo, I am told by friends who watched the TV program, it was strongly indicated that the City Council reflected an utter stigma of antagonism at the Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees and the Merchant group that had offered to aid the Council in investigating the Power plant.

I believe the term "impetuous youth" was utilized to characterize the citizens' groups that had offered echelons of proposed investigation and modes of action to the Council.

Could it be that the City Council is literally slamming the door in the faces of these citizens who are trying to work with them?

Does the Council wish to strive to put over a tremendous $9 million revenue bond issue without thoroughly having an opportunity to investigate the past management of the Power Plant along with other possible avenues of insuring the general citizenry of an adequately maintained power facility?

Will the Mayor and Council utilize a Citizens committee to go into the background of this matter on an impartial fact-finding study?

Certainly, our request for a concrete answer is not out of order, and, since an apaprent verbal authoritative opinion has been issued — may I officially request an immediate reply at your earliest convenience.

Respectfully,
David C. Silverstein, Chairman

1,250 Calves Are Purchased At Delhi Sale

DELHI, Sept., 10 (Special) —The first annual Northeast Louisiana feeder calf sale which was held here today was that of a success story for cattlement of this area as a number of out-of-state buyers, along with area purchasers, gathered at the Delhi Livestock Auction Barn and purchased 1,250 calves.

The better grade of calves, according to Richland Parish county agent, Basil Doles sold from 18.50 to 18.60 in groups of 15 to 20.

Under sponsorship of the cattlemen of north Louisiana, the sale was instigated to expand marketing facilities for the top grade calves.

With some of the best calves in 12 parishes to grade, Louisiana State University livestock specialists classified all the animals before the sale which began at 1 p.m. and went through 8 p.m.

Major buyers in the initial feeder calf sale were Quinn of Jackson, Miss.; Glover, of Mo.; Clark, of Mer Rouge; and Lumm of Natchez, Miss.

County agents throughout Northeast Louisiana discussed this issue earlier in the year with cattlemen who in turn were pleased at the idea of being given an opportunity to see if marketing facilities could be expanded.

The Delhi Livestock auction Barn, was chosen because of additional facilities available there. Clay Wilson is manager.

Very pleased with the first showing of such a sale, County Agent, Doles stated, "I think that after seeing today's results, we can definitely term such a venture as a success."

Officers To Outline Action Sagebrush To Forestry Group

ALEXANDRIA, La., Sept. 10 (AP) —Fourth Army officers will outline plans for Exercise Sagebrush maneuvers in the Camp Polk area to Louisiana Forestry Association officers here Thursday.

Executive secretary J. H. Kitchens Jr. said the briefing would take place at the board of directors meeting preceding the LFA convention Friday.

Kitchens said the officers would discuss claims handling, fire protection and steps to minimize damages.

The Army has obtained permission to maneuver in about five million acres.

However, Army officials said last week two million more acres must be obtained to assure the reopening of the camp on a permanent basis.

"We hope that army officials have some encouraging word for us regarding the permanence of Camp Polk," Kitchens said, "because I know that our members signed with that pledge in mind. Some of them have threatened to retract their leases if some assurance isn't given before the start of the maneuvers."

Bandit Steals $35 From Wife After Beating Husband

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10 —UP— A bandit pistol-whipped a taxi driver on an isolated road in Kenner today, stole $35 from the driver's wife and then fled in the cab after warning the couple to remain lying on the ground for five minutes.

Victim of the beating and robbery was Edward H. Culpepper, 56, who received a deep gash on the head from the thug's gun.

Culpepper told police he picked the man up at a New Orleans bus station and was told to drive to Kenner. Enroute, he stopped and picked up his wife, Leona, 35, at a drug store.

When they reached Kenner, the gunman pulled a pistol and hit Culpepper. Police said he grabbed Mrs. Culpepper's purse containing $35 and also the taxi driver's wallet.

Male Movie Stars Not Setting Styles; Say No To Bermuda Shorts

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Let's face it, men, we don't have the courage to throw off the shackles of our stupid hot-weather clothing.

This became evident in a query of male stars during the sizzlingest hot spell in local history. They were asked how they felt about Bermuda shorts.

The wily English, who have given the world Chaucer, Churchill and Commander Whitehead, also contributed the short trouser for wear in beastly weather. No, the Boy Scouts had nothing to do with it, Mabel.

Whether in the steaming jungles of the Congo or the sun-baked beaches of the Bahamas, the sensible Briton wears pants cut an inch above the knee—no higher, mind you; 'twould be vulgar. And what do we cousins in the colonies do? We walk around in 100-degree heat with long wool pants hugging our legs.

You'd think that film stars, traditional style setters, would strike a blow for freedom of the American male. I corraled William Holden and Dewey Martin and asked them what they thought about Bermuda shorts.

Said Holden: "I think they're wonderful—in Bermuda."

Added Martin: "I like them a lot—on girls."

The cowards. And there they were on a 110-degree day wearing long pants, shirts, ties, coats, etc No pioneer spirit there.

How about George Gobel? Surely he'd be enough of an individualist. I wandered to the "Birds and the Bees" set, and what do you know? There was Lonesome George in shorts. Of course, it was a jungle scene for the picture, but there was hope.

"How do you feel about wearing shorts, George?"

"Oh, I'm all for them. But I wouldn't wear them long socks with 'em. You need all the freedom you can get."

"Would you wear shorts in public."

"Well, not hardly. I wear 'em around the house and maybe to play golf now and then. But I don't think I'd wear 'em out and around."

Surely, I though, Humphrey Bogart would be my pigeon. The Old Curmudgeon. The railer at stupidity. I called him.

"Hello, Bogart? How do you feel about wearing shorts?"

"Not me, old boy. My knees are not for human consumption. Knobby, you know."

So I return to the office in disappointment, watching the coworkers sweltering in ties, shirts and long pants. One of the fellows has been urging me to pioneer the Bermuda shorts myself. I have declined.

No courage, either.

Negro Charged With Car Theft

Ouachita parish deputies and city detectives arrested a 22-year-old Negro shortly after noon today here in a stolen Oklahoma City, Okla., car.

The man identified as Carl Mason, of Independence, Kan., was being lodged in the parish jail on charges of auto theft, according to Sheriff Bailey Grant.

Deputies and city detectives apprehended the Negro at 14th and DeSiard streets.

The Kansas man was arrested in a 1951 Oldsmobile reported to be stolen from Aaron Manuel of Oklahoma City.

Sheriff Grant stated that Deputy J. R. Bell will leave today to return Ruth Remus, alias Ollie Blade, Ruth Blade, Negro, from the Houston, Tex., jail where she is being held for this department on two counts of forgery.

The woman had to be extradited.

Real Estate Board Monthly Meeting Set

Catholic Leaders Pessimistic About Chance Of Healing Argentine Wounds

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 10 (AP)—Church circles today described Roman Catholic leaders as pessimistic over the chances for any swift healing of wounds from the long and bitter church-state feud in Argentina.

This outlook was expressed despite the recent rush of private talks between top government and church officials.

During the past week, Ildefenso Cavagna Martinez, new foreign minister, conferred twice with Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello, ailing Roman Catholic primate in this country. The foreign minister also talked three times with Msgr. Mario Zanin, papal nuncio. Both churchmen said their conversations with Cavagna Martinez would be premature. These informants explained that relations between the church and President Peron's government were so severely strained in the controversy which erupted last November that church leaders "remain pessimistic" on the outlook for any rapid change.

Argentina is about 90 per cent Catholic, and Roman Catholicism is still the state church. Under a new law, the Peron government was authorized to postpone until next May election of a constitutional assembly to consider severing state-church ties.

The church informants said "there can be no basis for conciliation until full freedom of the church is re-established and all clergy are freed."

Another touchy issue is the expulsion from the country of Msgr. Manuel Tato, auxiliary bishop of Bueno Aires archdiocese, and his assistant, Msgr. Ramon Pablo Novoa. The government hustled them aboard a plane for Rome June 15, the day before an unsuccessful navy-led revolt against the Peron regime broke out.

Msgr. Tato and Msgr. Novoa are in Bogota, Colombia. Their successors in the Argentine church have been named by Cardinal Copello. It was understood Msgr. Tato plans to visit the United States soon, while Msgr. Novoa is expected to remain in Bogota as a teacher at the seminary.

Since the June revolt an uneasy truce has prevailed between church and state, jarred at intervals by renewed government jabs at church leaders and more arrests of a few priests and theological students. Some of those arrested were charged with joining an alleged plot last month to assassinate Peron.

Reports received here today from Cordoba in central Argentina said unidentified assailants had plunged a parish church into darkness and frightened the congregation with shouts. The pastor, the Rev. Jeremias Gutierrez, said the interlopers had slasked electric power lines to the church. In the ensuing panic, some men, women, and children in the church were reported injured. Father Guiterrez accused the police of failing to intervene during the disturbance.

Police headquarters in Buenos Aires announced today the 24-hour watch maintained since the June revolt at the capital's Catholic churches has been discontinued. Some of the city's finest churches were burned during the uprising.

Armed federal, border, and maritime police have maintained the church watch. Police said this is no longer necessary and that the normal watch over religious buildings will be resumed by the local police stations.

New Sleeper Cars Slated On Rail Run

Monroe - West Monroe Chamber of Commerce Transportation officials today were informed through a reliable source that the recent efforts to obtain "modern" sleeper accommodations on the St. Louis to Lake Charles run had been rewarded, in that, two new modern sleeper cars will be placed on the Missouri Pacific run Sept. 19.

According to the information received last night, Monroe bound passengers will have an opportunity to utilize the new sleeper accommodation on Monday, September 19, when the train leaves St. Louis.

"We are, indeed, most happy over this development," Harry Dixon, Co-Chairman of the Transportation committee stated, "and we are certain that this move by Missouri Pacific will prove a great boost to their normal passenger loads through Louisiana."

The Commerce Transportation committee for the past two years has been continuing talks with the railroad officials on this matter regarding improved over-night sleeping cars.

"Missouri Pacific officials are to be commended for their positive attitude," Chamber of Commerce secretary Jim Williams said, "and certainly our traveling public in the Twin City trade area will applaude this move by the management of the railroad."

The new equipment will boast of accommodation for 10 roomettes and four bedrooms according to tentative reports, which will mean that up - to - date modern facilities will be at the disposal of the railroad travelers.

The Southbound Missouri - Pacific Eagle will leave St. Louis at 5:30 p.m. arrive in Little Rock at 12:30 a.m. and in Monroe at 6:15 a.m.

Leading Citizens To Be Recognized

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will recognize outstanding citizens of the Twin Cities at a luncheon Monday.

The purpose of the annual event is to pay tribute and honor to citizens who have given service to the community.

Names of the citizens to be honored will not be revealed until the program gets underway.

Bill Simpson is chairman of the program, assisted by Charles McKenzie, Alan Sugar and Don Gill.

C.D.A. WILL MEET

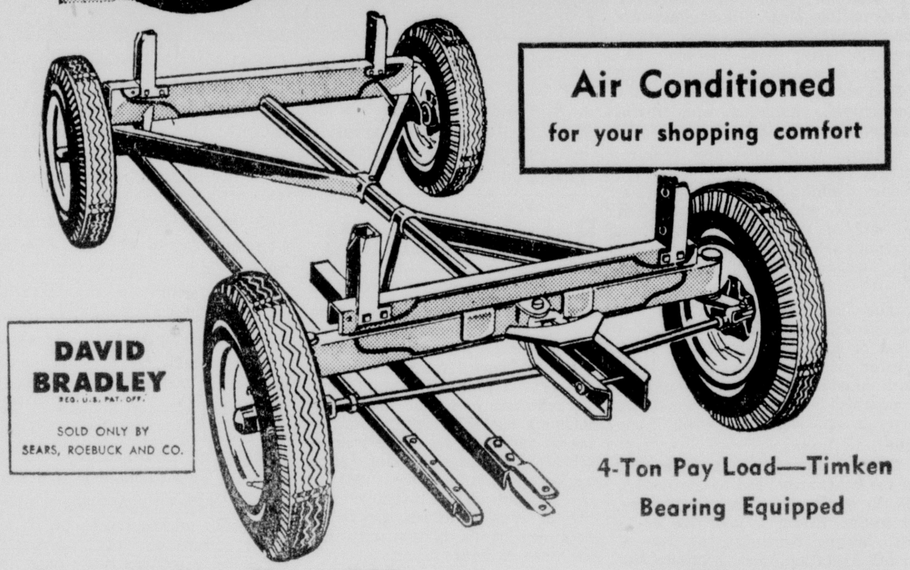

The regular monthly business meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America will be held Monday, Sept. 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Bronstad Blanks Oilers On 4 Hits, Scores Only Run

Twin Cities Whip El Dorado, 1 To 0, To Sew Up Series

Righthander Jim Bronstad pitched a four - hit shutout and scored the game's only run last night as the Twin Cities Sports defeated the El Dorado Oilers, 1 to 0, in the seventh and deciding game of the Cotton States League's playoff finals. The triumph enabled Manager Ed Head's Sports to sack up all the marbles in the league this season as they won both halves of the split season, the pennant, and the playoffs.

Bronstad's bat support could net only six hits off Gene Matty, El Dorado righthander, and his eighth inning relief, Dick Maibauer, but one of them was Bronstad's own single in the sixth inning after one was out.

Ray Mantle grounded out, setting Bronstad up at second base, and Roy Mantle came through with a solid single into right field that scored Bronstad with the game's only man.

The game was remindful of another Oilers - Sports duel back on August 26, 1952, when another pitcher, Ottis "Jake" Jacobs, shut out El Dorado on six hits and got two of his club's six hits, one driving in Charley Harrington, then skipper of the Sports, with the game's only run in the ninth inning as the Sports beat out the Oilers on the last day of regular season to clinch fourth place and a spot in the playoffs that year.

The game last night, attracting 2,522 cash customers, wasn't as explosive as Friday night scrap in which four home runs featured a 3-2 Sports triumph in ten innings, but it was strictly a night for the pitchers yesterday. It was the fastest regulation game of the season here, going one hour and 40 minutes.

Both clubs backed their hurlers with errorless support afield, and the only base on balls of the night was an intentional pass issued by Bronstad in the fifth inning.

Three players, Roy Nelson of El Dorado and Ed Rippili and Rod Kanehl of the Twin Cities, got two hits apiece, but they were all fruitless blows.

The Oilers' initial threat was in the second inning when Roy Nelson tripled with one out. But he was left stranded as Bob Maness threw out Ed Bandy and Bill Lefever.

Bandy singled with one out in the fifth and was forced by Lefever who stole second. Andy Kasper, intentionally walked, was forced by Matty to end the threat.

The Sports' one-run lead looked shaky in the seventh. Nelson led with a single. Bandy grounded in front of the plate and Don Saatzer's throw was late to second in an effort to halt Nelson, but the Oilers advanced no further as Lefever hit into a double play, Rod Kanehl to Richie Windle. The Oilers threatened no more.

Twice before scoring in the sixth, the Sports put runners on when Ed Rippili singled in the second inning and Kanehl singled in the fifth.

Rippili and Kanehl hit singles in the seventh but were left stranded.

Swanson In Relief Role As Bucs Lose To Braves

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 10 (AP) —The Milwaukee Braves pounded 15 hits today in running up a 13 to 5 score over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Edie Mathews slammed his 37th and 38th home runs of the season during the attack on three Pirate pitchers. Chuck Tanner also hit a homer for the Braves, and Frank Thomas clouded one for Pittsburgh.

Ray Crone, who replaced starter Chet Nichols in the second inning when the latter developed arm trouble, earned his 10th victory with a three - hit relief job over the last eight rounds. Nichols' shoulder stiffened during a 54-minute delay caused by rain.

Vernon Law, who started for the Pirates, was pounded for 10 hits and seven runs before departing in the fourth.

Guy Hill Sparks Ferriday To 25-6 Win Over Tigers

SICILY ISLAND, La., Sept. 10 (Special) — The Ferriday High School Bulldogs, with halfback Guy Hill chalking up three of his team's four six - pointers, defeated the Sicily Island Tigers here Friday night, 25-6.

The Bulldogs' only score in the first half came on a 17 - yard pass, quarterback Jimmy Marx to Hill, in the first period.

Leading by a 6-0 margin in the third, the Ferriday eleven struck again, with Hill plunging over tackle from three yards out to make it 12 - 0.

He scored on a five yard off-tackle plunge early in the fourth, and after Donnie Day's successful conversion kick, it was 19 - 0.

The Islanders' only score came in the fourth, when Billy Wiggins scampered for 27 yards to paydirt; and the winners added their final TD on a nine-yard pass from Marx to end Tony Brocato.

FLYING COLONELS

Tulane's brilliant guards, Tony Sardisco and Bryan Burnthorne, hold the ranks of colonel and lieutenant colonel, respectively, in Tulane's Air Force R. O. T. C. Sardisco also is wing commander.

Tribe Gridders Suffer From Lack Of Reserves

The Northeast State College football squad, which opened the '55 practice season with 48 candidates, has shrunk to a 36 - man squad just six days prior to their opener here Saturday night with the defending Gulf States Conference champions, Southeastern College.

Hardest hit in the line, Coach Devonne Payne's charges have lost three guards and two promising tackles with junior college experience.

Don Cummings, at 230 pounds; and Nick Lassiter, 205 pounds, both tackles with two years of junior college work, have recently quit the Northeast squad simply because "it wa too tough for them." Both were heavily counted on this season by the Tribe coaching staff because of size and experience.

Guards Jimmy Berry, 190 pounds; Arlen Ray Gardner, 210 pounds; and Raymond Snyder, 210 pounds; are lost for the season with recurring ailments. Berry is suffering from an old back ailment, and Gardner and Snyder from knee injuries.

Yesterday's short scrimmage was called entirely unsatisfactory by Coach Payne, mainly on account of lack of reserve strength in the line.

For the remaining sessions before the Saturday night opener, the Indians will stress conditioning and contact work.

Clarence Cook In Arena Main On Sept. 26 Card

The next boxing program at the Arena, according to boxing-wrestling promoter Gus Kallio, is slated for Monday, Sept. 26th, and will feature the return of Bastrop's Clarence Cook in the ten-round feature.

Cook, already signed for the bout, will meet "Pistol Pete" Sanchez, veteran Mexican boxer. Sanchez will be by far the most experienced opponent Clarence has ever met.

Classified Shoot Opens At Shotgun Range Here Today

Classified skeet and trapshooting starts this afternoon at the Selman Field range with the Twin City Gun Club going through its first full operation under new officials and a reorganized set-up headed by Bert Williams, president.

Trophies will be offered for high gun in both skeet and trapshooting at the end of the 100-target events.

J. B. Thoman, who is serving as range manager with Pete Gonzales, last night said participants in the shoot are not required to shoot all their targets in one afternoon, but the 100 classified "pigeons" may be counted over a period of three or four weeks.

Each time a shotgun enthusiast shoots, his score will be posted. At the end of the shoot he wil be classified. Class A is for shooter cracking 94 to 100, Class B for 90 of 100, and Class C for 89 of 100.

A special trophy will also be offered for youths up to 16 years of age.

Refreshments will be offered at the range when shooting starts at 1 p. m. and continues until darkness.

Causey's Singles Help Orioles Get Past Bengals, 5-3

BALTIMORE, Sept. 10 (AP) — Baltimore turned back Detroit, 5-3, today when a rash of Tiger Errors in the sixth inning spoiled young Bud Black's first Aermican League start.

Black even got thrown out of the game.

The 23-year-old righthander, called up from Little Rock, Ark., on Labor Day, was moving nicely behind a 2-1 lead until the Tiger fielding fell apart.

The Oilers scored in the sixth on Wayne Cuasey's single, errors by second baseman Fred Hatfield, shortstop Harvey Kuenn, and Black, and a walk issued by the young rookie with the bases loaded. Umpire Charles Berry threw Black out for arguing the call on the final pitch.

Baltimore had scored in the fifth on Hal Smith's single and Chuck Diering's triple. The Orioles got one more off reliefer Paul Foytack in the eighth on singles by Smith, pitcher Jim Wilson and Causey.

Snead, Littler, Haas Tie For Lead In Cavalcade

By WHITNEY MARTIN

SCOTCH PLAINS, N. J. Sept. 10 (AP) — The $50,000 Cavalcade of Golf Tournament settled into a stubborn dog fight today with three players — Sam Snead, Gene Littler and Freddie Haas — tied for the lead at the end of the third round scores of 209.

Snead, three strokes back after the second round, shot a sizzling 66 today as par 70 was bettered 15 times apparently because the field began to get the feel of Shackamaxon's narrow fairways and tricky greens.

The leader:

Sam Snead, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 71-72-66—209

Recreation Grid Quiz

The Recreation Griz Quiz is all ready for another football season, and a list of 20 games a week over a period extending unto November will be offered regularly in cooperation with the Monroe Recreation Department. Jack Hesketh, recreation director, prepares the weekly list of games, accepts and tallies the predictions submitted by contestants each week, and, at the close of the quiz, will award some recognition to the winners.

The quiz enjoyed one of its greatest seasons last year with greater reception from the readers and with selections submitted from as far away as Kentucky and Pennsylvania.

It cost nothing to participate, but contenders must make their selections from the 20 games submitted each week, and mail to "Recreation Grid Quiz, P. O. Box 1293, Monroe," to be postmarked not later than midnight Thursday. Names should be signed clearly to the list of selections.

The list as published is sufficient. Just circle the names of the teams you think will win, sign name and address, clip out the list, and mail.

Here we go with the first 20 scorchers:

Hornets Overtake Holly Ridgers In 4th To Win, 20-13

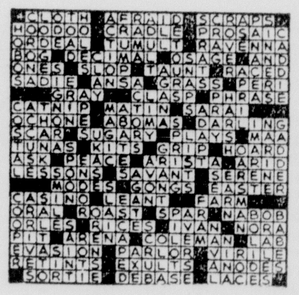

HOLLY RIDGE, La., Sept. 10 (Special) — The Rayville Hornets overcame a six - point Holly Ridge lead here Friday night with two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to defeat the Eagles, 20-13.

After a scoreless first period, the Hornets led at the end of the second 7-6, with O'Neal scoring on a ten - yard pass from Greer and kicking the point. Holly Ridge also tallied on a pass, covering 40 yards, from Best to Smith.

They went ahead in the third quarter on a 98 - yard run by Hough, and Futch booted the point to make it 13-7.

But in the final stanza, Rayville's Greer again heaved a touchdown aerial to O'Neal for 20 yards, and Weaver plunged four yards for another.

O'Neal kicked one more extra point in the fourth period to run his point margin to 14.

Redlegs Slug 14 Hits, But Barely Beat Giants, 4-3

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10 (AP) —The Cincinnati Redlegs frittered away most of their 14 hits today but they still squeezed out a 4-3 victory over the New York Giants and a sweep of their two-game series. The game was delayed 27 minutes after the eighth inning because of rain.

A clutch single by Smoky Burgess in the eighth gave the Reds their winning run off Jim Hearn, the third Giant pitcher. In that frame Roy McMillan led off with a single and was forced out by relief pitcher Hershel Freeman. Freeman went to second on Johnny Temple's sacrifice and then scored on Burgess' hit.

Their own reckless base running helped stifle three of the Redleg scoring threats.

Rain Halts Dodgers, Cubs In 6 Innings; Tie, 3 To 3

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers and the Chicago Cubs played to a 3-to-3 tie today in a game halted by rain after six full innings.

It was the last meeting of the season of the National League champs and the Cubs.

It was the Dodgers' first tie of the year as they finished with a 14-7 seasonal edge over Chicago.

Chicago got to Carl Erskine for a 2-0 lead in the second, when Ernie Banks singled, Randy Jackson tripled, and Eddie Miksis singled Jackson home.

Louisiana Tech To Open Saturday At La. College

RUSTON, Sept. 10 — Louisiana Tech's Bulldogs will open the 1955 grid season and launch their bid for Gulf States Conference honors next Saturday night at Pineville when they clash with the Wildcats of Louisiana College.

With five days of practice remaining before the curtain raiser, the Canines will attempt next week to iron out the rough spots that have shown up since workups began Sept. 1. The Tech coaching staff has been well pleased with practice results.

"We've had some very fine and enthusiastic scrimmages," points out head coach Joe Aillet. "Most of the fellows arrived Sept. 1 in good physical condition and this has helped the squad to come through scrimmage sessions so far without serious injuries. We have had perhaps the best opening scrimmage sessions we've had in a long time."

With most of last year's backfield returning, the Techmen appear to be pretty well fortified in both speed and depth in the ball carrying department. In practice the coaches have noted some good work on the part of the new quarterbacks.

"There was some especially fine team control and play operation exhibited by quarterbacks Bobby Anderson, junior of San Augustine, Tex., James McCabe, Minden freshman, Jim Coleman, junior of Jena, and Clyde Thompson, Delhi freshman," Coach Aillet commented. Also handling the ball in scrimmage have been seniors Milford Andrews, Delhi, and Pete McCulley, Baton Rouge.

There is considerable more concern over the situation up front in the line where the Bulldogs lost the services of 11 linemen from last season, including two Little All-American selections, guard Jesse Storts an dend Gordon Brown.

Four ends were graduated from last season but the Techesters still have the services of two 1954 lettermen, plus two lettermen from previous years, two transfers and three freshmen. Only two lettermen and a squadman return to the tackle slot this fall and in an effort to gain depth here the coaches have shifted several freshmen from other positions to tackle.

The Bulldogs will have three lettermen at guards and a great deal of the reserve strength there will depend upon the play of new-comers to the squad. Handling the ball at center will be two fellows from the squad of last fall and two freshmen.

After the opening tussle with Louisiana College, the Canines return home to play in Tech Stadium Sept. 24 with Mississippi Southern. One week laster Abline Christian College will be in Ruston for a battle. Other non-conference contests include Howard Payne at Brownwood, Tex., and Austin College.

Besides the three teams from Texas and one from Mississippi there will be the usual rough competition in the GSC giving the Techsters one of the strongest schedules they have faced in several years.

But there is no crying towel out at Tech. Bulldog fans can be assured that the 11 seniors, 11 juniors, seven sophmores and 20 freshmen on the squad will be out to win their share of the battles this fall. During the last 15 years the Techmen have had only two seasons in which they have lost more games than they have won.

Miscue In Tenth Brings In Minoso With Winning Run

By JOE RICEHLER

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (AP) — The fighting Chicago White Sox escaped from the brink of certain defeat and probable pennant elimination today, clawing back with three runs in the ninth inning and another in the tenth to climax a spectacular uphill battle and nip the New York Yankees 9-8 in 10 pulse-pounding innings.

A muff by a thrown ball by Eddie Robinson, the third first baseman employed by Manager Casey Stengel, permitted Minnie Minoso to cross the plate with the winning run.

Minoso, whose muff of a fly ball with two out in the bottom of the ninth, had allowed the Yankees to score the tying run, walked to open the tenth, was sacrificed to second and raced to third on a short passed ball by catcher Hank Bauer.

Bauer had shifted behind the plate in the 10th after Charlie Silvera, who had replaced Yogi Berra, had gone out for a pinch hitter.

Chicago's victory kept the third-place White Sox three and a half behind the pace-setting Cleveland Indians, who increased their lead over the runner-up Yankees to a game and a half. The Indians and Yankees clash here tomorrow in a crucial double header with first place at stake.

A total of 41 players, one short of the major league record, was used in this spine-tingling game that took three hours and 59 minutes to complete. Eleven pitchers saw action, six for the Yankees. Millard (Dixie) Howell, who hurled the final two innings for the Sox, was credited with the victory, his eighth since he was purchsed from Memphis on June 7. The 35-year-old righthander permitted only one hit, walked one and gave up an unearned run.

The defeat was charged to Johnny Kucks, who pitched to only two batters. He came in to quell the ninth inning rally by throwing a third strike past pinch-hitter Earl Battey and left in the 10th after walking lead-off hitter Minoso.

Sooners, Bears Rate 'Tops'

By BOB HOOBING
The Associated Press

Oklahoma's powerful Sooners may prove the most consistent element in the college football season which opens this weekend with a new substitution rule and some probable shifts in power alignment.

At least two members of the unbeaten triumvirate that ruled the nation's gridirons last fall—Oklahoma and U.C.L.A.—look like repeaters. The Sooners, winners of their last 19 games, have the edge in the schedule.

But defending champion Ohio State and Notre Dame, No. 4 in the Associated Press poll for '54, face a rough road minus key operatives. So does Arkansas' Cinderalla eleven.

A Maryland team which Coach Jim Tatum calls his best in nine years at College Park, Miami and Michigan are the teams expected to move into national title contention.

Michigan is not the only creator of unrest in the Big Ten. Ohio State must keep a wary eye on Iowa's mature Hawkeyes and another strong Wisconsin representative.

Outside the central plains, where Oklahoma is unbeaten in 47 Big Seven encounters, and the midwest, here are the teams to watch:

East—Navy, Army.

South —Maryland, Miami, West Virginia, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Kentucky, Duke.

Southwest — Rice, SMU, Texas Tech.

Pacific Coast — U.C.L.A., U.S.C.

Rocky Mountain — Wyoming, Utah.

Three factors will be evident as the season unfolds:

1. The revamped rule permitting a player who begins a period to leave the game and return again in the same period will favor teams which can field two interchangeable units. Squad depth will be a greater asset than at any time since platoons were outlawed.

2. Demands upon the quarterback will reach a new high in the popular split-T offences where ability as a runner ranks with ball handling, passing and brainpower.

3. By accident, the schedules are such that the fate of many of the candidates for national honors will be known by mid-October.

Oklahoma, U.C.L.A., Maryland and Miami are prime examples of the teams which can take advantage of the substitution rule with bench-length quality of personnel.

The winner of the U. C. L. A. Maryland game Sept. 24 might well emerge the national champion. Miami hosts Notre Dame in a night contest Oct. 7—the make-or-break date for the Hurricanes. It also will show just how far Fighting Irish Coach Terry Brennan, in his sophomore year, has been able to adjust to the loss of eight starters including All-America quarterback Ralph Guglielmi.

Miami's other big test comes this Saturday against Georgia Tech in a nationally televised spectacle.

Mississippi's bid for an unbeaten season will be guaged on its performance against vastly-improved Kentucky Sept. 24.

The Michigan - Army and Oklahoma-Texas encounters on Oct. 8 will have a major bearing on the season-end rankings. Ditto S.M.U.-Rice Oct. 15.

Other "big" games: Oct. 29 — Michigan-Iowa, Navy-Notre Dame; Nov. 19—Michigan-Ohio State, U.-C.L.A.-U.S.C.; Nov. 26—Army - Navy.

The all - important quarterback position is the spot where Ohio State and Notre Dame may be hurt.

The Buckeyes could have a much tougher time replacing underrated Dave Leggett than the graduated Bobby Watkins at right half or fullback Hubert Bobo who quit school. Ohio State has All-America halfback Howard Cassady as a holdover from its Rose Bowl team with whom they can work Jerry Harkrader and Don Vicic. Quarterback is the worry.

Those who saw the College All-Stars defeat the Cleveland Browns in August will attest that Guglielmi is a rare specimen among quarterbacks. Notre Dame's biggest job is to give converted fullback Paul Hornung experience in a hurry to meet a schedule which starts with S.M.U. and includes Navy, Iowa and U.S.C.

Despite the pessimism of Coach Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma has the ingredients—a good signal caller and a typically tough Sooner line. Junior Jimmy Harris will pilot the split-T and could develop into as smooth a performer as predesessors Jack Mitchell, Darrell Royal, Claude Arnold, Eddie Crowder and Gene Calame.

If U.C.L.A. can handle Maryland, chances are good they'll be celebrating the second straight unbeaten season at Westwood—and this time the Bruins are eligible for the Rose Bowl.

Fullback Bob Davenport is the equal of any in the land, wingback Jim Decker is exceptional and five tailbacks are available including the publicized Ronnie Knox who becomes eligible after his transfer from California. An outstanding Bruin line features guard Hardiman Cureton, end Rommie Loudd and center Steve Palmer.

Michigan, another single wing power, has All-America candidate Ron Kramer spearheading a big, mobile line from his end position. Wingback Tony Bramoff, who underwent a knee operation in the off season, may hold the key.

Frank Tamburello, artful faker and skilled defender, quarterbacks Maryland's hip-deep Terps with Bob Pellegrini, shifted from guard to center, receiving rave notices.

Miami boasts sleight-of-hand veteran Mario Bonofiglio and sophomore passer Gene Reeves as alternating quarterbacks on a "loaded" club. Halfback Whitey Rouviere is tops.

Elsewhere in the deep south the picture is clouded. Mississippi, with three capable quarterbacks, has the scheduled advantage in the Southwest Conference title race it won last year. Georgia Tech is potent behind versatile Wade Mitchell but the schedule is one of the roughest in the country. Kentucky can be one of the surprise teams.

Auburn finished the '54 campaign as strong as any major eleven. Quarterback Jackie Freeman and end Jim Pyburn who turned to baseball are gone. If they can be replaced, the Plainsmen will roll.

Rice Institute is the most likely successor to Arkansas in the Southwest by a narrow margin. The Owls have the necessary depth and a better schedule break than Southern Methodist's Mustangs who have a teriffic running attack.

Navy's Sugar Bowl champions must rebuild their backfield behind talented quarterback George Welsh but All-America end Ron Beagle and a solid line should make them tops in the east again. Shallenging Army's fate rests with the Cadet experiment of shifting super-end Don Holleder to the quarterback spot. Yale rates the role of Ivy League favorite.

Don't be surprised if the December All-America comes from this list:

Ends—Beagle, Navy; Kramer, Michigan; Bill Walker, Maryland.

Tackels — Ralph Chesnauskas, Army; Jerry Walker, Texas Tech; Bob Bartholomew, Wake Forest; Bruce Bosley, West Virginia; Frank Machinsky, Ohio State; D'Agostino, Auburn; John Miller, Boston College; Ed Rayburn, Rice; Forest Gregg, S.M.U.

Guards — Bill Meigs, Harvard; Calvin Jones, Iowa; Cureton, U.C.-L.A.; Bo Bolinger, Oklahoma; Frank Brooks, Georgia Tech; Buddy Alliston, Mississippi.

Centers — Hugh Pitts, T.C.U.; Pellegrini, Maryland; Marv Goux, U.S.C.; Jerry Tubbs, Oklahoma; Steve Delatorre, Florida.

HORSEMAN DIES

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (AP) —Howard (Babe) Wells of Lexington, Ky., veteran trainer, breeder and owner of race horses, died last night of a heart seizure. He was 52. Wells was stricken while attending a meeting of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective association at the Hawthorne clubhouse.

Colorful Pair In Relay Feature Tuesday Night

Another wrestling tag team match is on tap Tuesday night featuring a team within a team —colorful Chief Lone Wolf with his "mouthpiece" Prince Banita and partner Wright against Charlie Carr and Buddy Starr.

The Chief, like Gorgeous George and his valet, carries the Prince around the country in his mat appearances as a second, manager, rooter, and perhaps interpreter.

According to Promoter Kallio, Chief Wolf makes no move without the Prince's say-so, so it may be assumed that the second is not only a manager but literally "chief advisor."

Both Carr and Starr have appeared here previously, but on opposite sides of the fence. Squat Shreveporter Carr has always been a villain, whereas Starr, who really does have fair hair, has always been a "fair-haired" type of wrestler.

Since Wright is well known as a villain, it must be assumed that the Chief cares little for the rules also. In any event, Carr should be able to handle their trickery, while Starr takes care of the strong - arm work.

Two short preliminaries complete the card.

BIGGEST GREENIE

Dalton Truax, beetle-browed junior tackle from New Orleans, was the heaviest Tulane football player reporting for pre-season practice. The ex-Holy Cross High star came in at 226 pounds, of which he probably will shed about 10.

Nail down Auto finance Charges . . .
with United Credit's new Figurin' Pencil!

Auto financing charges are not all the same . . . When you buy your new car, or your next used car, "nail down" the actual interest charges.

Get a free figurin' pencil at United Credit. This pencil dramatizes how United Credit helps you to "nail down" auto financing charges. Get yours free and figure the difference —nail down the financing charges on your next car.

At United Credit you figure your own interest. Here's how: Take the amount of money you want to finance and multiply by the interest rate. This gives you the interest for one year. If you finance for 2 years, then multiply by 2; for 30 months, multiply by 2½. This gives you your total amount of interest.

Add your interest to the original amount to get your total debt. Divide this by the number of months you plan to finance and you'll find your monthly payment.

It's just that simple. That's the way we do it at United Credit—no extras, no hidden fees or charges, no pack, no pad. You take a pencil and figure your own interest!

New Car Interest 4.50 per hundred per year

Like all financing agencies, United Credit's rates are slightly higher on older model used cars: One year old models, $6 per hundred; two year old models, $7 per hundred; three year old models, $8 per hundred. Unlike many other companies, United Credit's rates are never more than $8 per hundred.

Indians Boost Lead With 10-7 Triumph Over Bosox

Redskins Battle From Behind With 5-Run 7th Inning

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON, Sept. 10 (AP) —Cleveland utilized Ralph Kiner's 18th homer and Jackie Jensen's critical outfield error in a five - run uprising that beat Boston 10-7 today as the Indians pulled out all the stops to stretch their American League lead to a game and a half.

Chicago's 9-8 victory over second place New York in 10 innings enabled Cleveland to gain a game in its bid to keep the A. L. flag.

The Indians threw in 22 players including six pitchers on the way to the triumph in a loosely -played, pressure - packed contest. Combined hits for the clubs totaled 32.

Cleveland pounded out 18 hits while the Red Sox accounted for 14 including a three - run homer by Zauchin.

Al Smith paced the tribe assult with five singles and a sacrifice fly but it was Larry Doby that got Cleveland rolling in the seventh with the Tribe behind 7-4.

Doby opened the seventh with a double to the right field corner off relief specialist Ellis Kinder. Kiner followed with his home run — his second in two days — over the left field nets.

When Gene Woodling and pinchhitter Dale Mitchell walked, Tom Hurd replaced Kinder on the mound

With Rocco Colavito now running for Mitchell, pinchhitter Bon Lemon singled to right field. The ball shot right past Jensen and rolled to the wall with two runs scoring to put Cleveland in front 8-7. Lemon got all the way to third and Sam Dente, inserted to run for him, came home on Smith's sacrifice fly.

Bobby Avila doubled to left and Al Rosen was hit by a pitch but Leo Kiely came on from the bullpen to get Doby on a liner to Ted Williams in left.

Cleveland added an insurance tally in the eighth. Jim Hegan forced Woodling who had walked, raced to second on a wild pitch and scored on relief pitcher Ray Narleski's single.

Narleski ran into trouble in the bottom of the eighth when Jim Piersall singled and Billy Goodman walked for the Sox.

Southpaw Don Mossi got the call to finish up and Eddie Joost, batting for Billy Klaus, flied to Doby.

Williams got his third single to lead off the ninth and Jensen walked as the crowd of 23,550 shouted for a rally.

Mossi, who had finished up last night's Cleveland victory, nailed it down today by striking out Zauchin, getting Sammy White on a liner to left and fanning Grady Hatton for the final out.

Tribe Manager Al Lopez was chased by umpire Larry Napp after a vehement argument over the play that stopped a Cleveland scoring bid in the sixth.

The Sox, by losing, fell six games off the pace with only 15 more to play.

Farmerville Tags Oak Grove Tigers With 14-0 Defeat

OAK GROVE, La., Sept. 10 (Special) —Captalizing on two breaks, the Farmerville Farmers defeated the Oak Grove Tigers, 14-0, here last night in an intersectional Class A battle. It was the opening game of the season for both teams.

The first half was scoreless with both teams evenly matched. It was midway of the third quarter when Farmerville scored first. Halfback Billy Joe Tuten tallied from eight yards out and Levy Redden, quarterback who sparked the Farmers offensively kicked the extra point.

To set up the score, Tiger halfback Robert Corley gained 12 yards to the Tiger 29, but a 15-yard penalty cancelled the gain and put the home squad on their own two. Quarterback Russ Greer punted out to the Tiger 35, but the ball bounced back to the Tiger 20, where the Farmers took over. Redden gained 12 on the next play and Tuten scored after taking a hand-off from Redden.

Two series of downs later, Greer's punt from his own 30 was blocked by Johnnie Hodge and Lamprich, Farmerville ends, and Griffin, right guard, Farmerville recovered the ball on the Oak Grove one. Farmerville, with a penalty and a loss, took four full downs to tally the second TD. Redden scored on a center smash from the three and kicked the extra point.

Emphasis of the game was on defense. Hodge, Redden and Tuten were offensive standouts for Farmerville. For the Farmers on defense it was Lamptem, a tackle, Griffin, and Emmett Nolan, guards, who stood out.

Offensively, Tiger backs Jimmy Myrick, Burnell Harrison and Robert Corley sparked the running attack, while Greer passed to ends and Harrison to highlight the Tigers aerial game. Defensively for Oak Grove Myrick and tackles Glen Daniel and Bill Lee turned in good performances.

Ex-Major Leaguer Dies Unexpectedly

NEWTON, Mass., Sept. 10 (AP) — John F. (Shono) Collins, 69, former major league ball player and onetime manager of the Boston Red Sox, died unexpectedly today at his home.

Collins, a Boston native, broke into the big leagues as a first baseman — outfielder in 1910 with the Chicago White Sox and remained with them through the 1920 season.

In 1921 Shono came to the Sox and played for them through 1925.

Funeral arrangement were incomplete.

Nashua Is Invited To International Race On Nov. 11th

LAUREL, Md., Sept. 10 (AP) Nashua, recent avenger of his only defeat by Swaps, was sent his invitation to the Nov. 11 Washington D. C., International today to become the strongest U. S. challenger in the four-year-old race on grass.

The invitation from a committee of turf writers is the first to a U. S. horse. It appeared the only formality required for the entry of this country's leading 3-year-old now.

After he beat Swaps in their $100,000 match race at Chicago-Aug. 31, William Woodward Jr. said he'd like "nothing better than to have Nashua run in" the International.

"Of course, don't forget I haven't received an official invitation yet," he added modestly.

Both Woodward and trainer Jim Fitzsimmons said they had no qualms about running Nashua on the Laurel grass although it probably will be the first time.

He's a huge, strong colt and except for Swaps match race usually late starter so is suited for the mile and half grind. The International is worth $50,000 to the winner and $15,000 split among the next three.

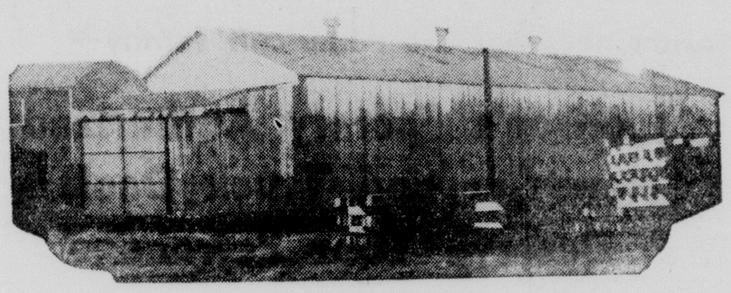

The committee of writers will select at least one more U. S. entry for the race. Until it was found that Swaps had a sore right foot which will lay him up, he was a cinch for it.

John D. Schapiro, president of Laurel who chooses the foreign entries, already has the acceptance of Panaslipper, the Irish Derby champion. He is working on invitations to the best from England, Italy, Germany and South America.

Nashua is the biggest "name" entry lined up by the U. S. for the International. Although C. V. Whitney's Fisherman was the first to crack the winner's circle last year for the U. S., he was a last minute substitute for the injured High Gun.

Read about this daring offer in which Skelly risks

10 Gallons of Gasoline FREE

Skelly guarantees you either 10% more mileage or 10 gallons of Skelly Supreme Gasoline FREE, when you switch for 30 days to the Skelly Supreme "Power Pair":

... AND BESIDES EXTRA MILEAGE, YOU CAN TAKE ADVANTAGE OF THE BIG NEW INCREASE IN OCTANE RATING OF SKELLY SUPREME GASOLINE —ALL AT NO RISK TO YOU!

How can Skelly dare to guarantee more mileage, when others only claim it? Is there a "catch"? Absolutely not! Skelly guarantees you 10% more mileage only because Skelly's products can back it up!

Skelly research knows that no other combination of premium gasoline and motor oil can even match the miles (or the power) per dollar you get with the Skelly Supreme "Power Pair." The oil industry's own testing methods prove it!

But we also know that most motorists aren't petroleum engineers. So, instead of just claiming 10% more mileage when you switch to Skelly Supreme Gasoline and Motor Oil ... we will positively guarantee it!

How can you get so much extra mileage with the "Power Pair"? 3 ways:

1. Skelly Supreme Motor Oil has the world's highest tested viscosity index ... it flows more freely during starting and warm-up, yet keeps a tougher protective film at high engine speeds ... so it cuts friction better than other leading brands.

2. Wasteful engine deposits are minimized; and Skelly Supreme Gasoline's new SK-100 concentrate eliminates mileage-robbing "pre-ignition." Octane rating of this great gasoline is highest in Skelly history, too.

3. Skelly Supreme Motor Oil cleans as it lubricates ... keeps hydraulic valve lifters, piston rings and cylinder walls free of sticky lacquer and gum, so they can work with peak efficiency.

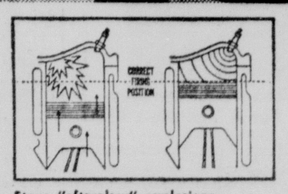

Result: a cleaner, smooth-working engine that squeezes out utmost mileage from each drop of gasoline.

So you can't possibly lose! You buy gasoline and motor oil anyway. And by switching to the Skelly Supreme "Power Pair" for 30 days, you get 10% more mileage—or you get 10 gallons of Skelly Supreme Gasoline absolutely FREE!

Why not drive into your nearby Skelly station today and start your 10%-more-mileage test with the Skelly Supreme "Power Pair"?

New Higher Octane in Gasoline;
Highest Tested V. I. in Motor Oil:

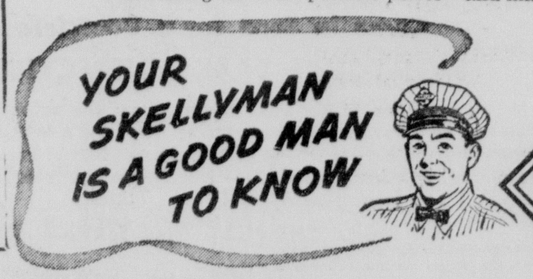

Premium Brands	Viscosity Index	Flash	Fire	Cold Test	Carbon Residue
Skelly Supreme Grade O	159.1	410°	445°	—45°	.06%
Competitive Brand A	155.7	370°	410°	—40°	.07%
Competitive Brand B	153.7	355°	390°	—35°	.18%
Competitive Brand C	144.3	385°	420°	—40°	.45%

Stops "afterglow" explosions that rob you of mileage:
Ordinary premium gasolines (left) often allow hot, glowing engine deposits to ignite the fuel before piston reaches correct firing position. SK-100 concentrate in Skelly Supreme Gasoline prevents this power-wasting "pre-ignition" by eliminating trouble-causing "after-glow." Result: quiet, controlled combustion ... more power ... more miles from every gallon!

World's highest tested viscosity index ... and lowest consumption!
By the oil industry's own rating system, Skelly Supreme Motor Oil beats all others tested—holds first place in all five of these important characteristics of any motor oil ... gives better lubrication, less "friction-drag," more miles per gallon. And because it's the world's lowest consumption motor oil, you'll add less oil, if any, between changes.

The famous Skelly Supreme "Power Pair": Skelly Supreme Gasoline, just stepped-up to the highest octane rating in Skelly history, and Skelly Supreme Motor Oil, with the world's highest tested viscosity index. These two superior products, each tops in its own field, are the result of years of Skelly research and development. Made of the finest components, and proved by the most stringent road tests, they have been specifically engineered to work together with the utmost compatibility to give you a cleaner, better lubricated, more efficient engine capable of delivering the most possible power—and miles—per dollar.

Here's all you do to take advantage of Skelly's Sensational Offer:
1. Drive into any Skelly station, have your crankcase drained and refilled with Skelly Supreme Motor Oil.
2. Fill up with Skelly Supreme Gasoline.
3. Register for the "10% More Miles" Test.
4. Use only the Skelly Supreme Power Pair for at least 30 days. Record each purchase and the mileage on the form provided.
5. After 30 days, if you have not averaged at least 10% more mileage, Skelly will give you a check for 10 gallons of Skelly Supreme Gasoline absolutely FREE!

To Protect Your Investment..

YOUR FACTORY AUTHORIZED NEW CAR AND TRUCK DEALERS

have collectively one of the greatest investments in the nation. Their combined investments, extending into many billions of dollars, are several times as great as the investments of the automobile manufacturing companies whose products they sell and service.

YOUR FACTORY AUTHORIZED NEW CAR AND TRUCK DEALERS

have larger investments than the manufacturing companies because on them alone falls the franchise burden and responsibility of maintaining distribution and service facilities, including factory replacement part stocks, special tools and equipment and the skilled labor for the maintenance service needs of the motorists.

YOUR FACTORY AUTHORIZED NEW CAR AND TRUCK DEALERS

have one of the greatest shares of the responsibility of the nation in providing transportation to millions upon millions of American families who must depend on their cars and trucks to earn a living. Should the Authorized Dealers cease to function as such at any given time, the effect on the economy of the nation and the American family would be close to catastrophic.

Only food, clothing and shelter rank ahead of transportation needs of the American family—

The gridiron contest is scheduled for the next day, with Stetson University of De Land, Florida, furnishing the opposition.

Registration for the special classes, all of which are on the graduate level, will begin on Monday, Sept. 19, with the class meeting to be held on the night of registration.

Following is the registration schedule:

MRS. GEORGE BALLIS

Miss Olga Tefas Becomes Bride Of George Ballis

On Sunday afternoon, September 4 at 4:30 P.M., in a candlelight ceremony in the St. Constantine and Helen Greek Orthodox Church, Miss Olga Tefas became the bride of George Ballis. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tefas and Mr. Ballis is the son of Mrs. Vasilas Ballis and the late Mr. Ballis of Galveston, Texas.

The sanctuary of the church was decorated with tall baskets of pink chrysanthemums and ivy entwined candelabra holding pale pink tapers.

Reverend Vasilias Markopoulos officiated at the nuptials. Leon Hammond was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of blush nylon tulle and lace. The molded bodice of lace, sprinkled with rhinestones and pearls, featured an off shoulder neckline, under an illusion yoke. The very bouffant skirt was fashioned with an apron-like overskirt, which created a bustle in the back and swept into a chapel train. Her bridal veil of illusion was fingertip length and was attached to a bandeau of matching lace, embellished in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible mounted with white philanoptis orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Catherine Bravos of Lake Charles was the maid of honor. Miss Georgia Caros of Galveston, Texas and Miss Mattie Crow acted as bridesmaids. They were dressed alike in floor length gowns of dusty pink chiffon over taffeta. They wore matching bandeaus of imported French feathers and bouquets of red Delight roses completed their costumes.

Tom Ballis was his brothers' best man. Ushers included Lt. Steve Tefas, San Antonio, Tex., brother of the bride, Oliver Graham, Austin, Texas, Archie Voight, Galveston, and Steve Koulocouris, Angelo Dinakis was ring bearer.

A reception was held in a local restaurant at 8 p.m. with the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. George Tefas, hosts. Bouquets of pink chrysanthemums decorated the room. Mrs. Tefas received her guests in a street length dress of soft blue lace and taffeta and a matching hat of satin, studded with blue sequins. An orchid was pinned at her shoulder. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with two large satin wedding rings, entwined with white gladioli and carnations.

The bride traveled in a dress of mink colored silk cotton, with matching jacket, trimmed in black satin. With this she wore a hat of black satin and orchid corsage.

On their return from a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., they will make their home in La Marque Texas.

Out - of - town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Dan Boorias and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Boorias of Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. E. Melos and daughter, Jennie of Lake Charles; Miss Helen and Miss Barbara Markopoulos, Los Angeles, Calif.; Miss Katy Faris, San Antonio, Texas, Alex Kantralis, Houston, Mr. and Mrs. George Bravos and daughter, Connie, Lake Charles, Mr. and Mrs. George Bravos, Alexandria, Mrs. Gus Lymboris, Galveston, Mrs. J. BARBARA LAWRENCE

Women Honor Speaker At Tea

The Women's Division of United Jewish Charities of Northeast Louisiana, with Mrs. Bernard Marcus, chairman and Mrs. Louis Masur, co - chairman, will present Mrs. Barbara Lawrence at a tea on September 13 at 2 p.m. in the United Gas building on Louisville Ave.

Mrs. Lawrence, outstanding lecturer and leader in philanthropic and interfaith activities, who has traveled extensively through Europe, Israel and North Africa will speak in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal Campaign.

In visits to Europe, North Africa and the Jewish communities of the Near East, Mrs. Lawrence has witnessed the desperate plight facing hundreds of thousands of Jews living under sub - standard conditions. A dynamic speaker, she presents to her audiences a dramatic account of the work being done overseas with funds raised by the United Jewish Appeal. Hers is a first - hand exciting word picture of the emptying of DP camps, the miraculous upbuilding of the State of Isarel and an authoritative story of life among the Jewish people in Islamic countries. During one of her overseas tours, she was an observer of "Operation Magic Carpet," a project in which the United Jewish Appeal chartered planes to evacuate more than 50,000 Jews —the entire Jewish population — of Yemen to Israel.

In her home community of Ann Arbor, Michigan, Mrs. Lawrence is an active worker in behalf of interfaith activities and serves as chairman of the Women's Activities Division of the local chapter of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Until she moved to Ann Arbor, Mrs. Lawrence was on the Advisory Board of the New York City Women's Division of the UJA and so knows fund-raising from both sides of the platform.

Mrs. Lawrence was formerly a successful publicity director and department store advertising stylist. A graduate of Smith College, she is married and has two children, a daughter now attending Smith, and a son who is serving with the armed forces in Korea.

Monroe Garden Club Presents Mrs. M. B. Latham

The Monroe Garden Club is fortunate to have Mrs. M. B. Latham of Jackson, Miss., as its first guest speaker of the fall. Mrs. Latham has not only established an enviable reputation for herself in Mississippi, but throughout the south, for her work with garden clubs and especially for the magic she creates with flowers. She took up the hobby she now claims as a profession, before World War II.

Mrs. Latham is a member, not only of garden clubs, but of the Jackson Rose Society and the nationally accredited Flower Show Judges of Mississippi. She will speak to the Monroe Garden Club at the First Presbyterian church in the Fellowship Hall on Monday, September 12 at 2 p.m. Her subject for that day will be church arrangements.

Girl Scout News

Last Sunday we asked, "Does our community think Girl Scouting is worthwhile? Worth enough to deserve support in order to continue?" Many people last week answered that question with their work of solicitation and their gifts of dollars. Now the drive is far from complete, but we hope that the friends of Scouting are just slow, not indifferent.

With a lot of emphasis being put on the fund drive, some leaders and parents have thought that no Scout troops can continue unless there are funds available to maintain an office and provide professional help. That is not true.

There'll always be Girl Scouting. There are still many communities throughout the country, where leaders depend entirely upon the Girl Scout publications for their training. This, however, takes a great deal of initiative and time on the part of the leader.

Locally, this would mean going backward about ten years to the time when there were only a few lone troops here. It would mean that troops would be formed only when a volunteer decided to take that important step. She would not have the benefit of materials from the office, nor the help and advice of a professional worker.

It would mean that the camping program, day, troop, and established, dear to the hearts of hundreds of girls, would be drastically curtailed, or even abandoned. There is the Girl Scout's own troop camp, Pine Wood, given by the people of our community, the site of day camp, used almost every week end for troop camping and for lots of Saturday activities. It is maintained by cookie sales, it is true, but without an office to handle details, a cookie sale would be difficult. The people of the Twin Cities have invested too much money and work in Pine Wood, to let it go down from neglect.

Training for leaders, both local and national is provided by the community when it gives to Girl Scouting. Quality of program is insured when the leader receives the training she needs to carry on her duties. Not only leaders, but camp counselors, troop committee members, and council members are prepared for their jobs by a professional who has had the training and experience to help them.

On the bright side of the picture, we have several troops that have met all summer, a neighborhood set up in the college section, many of last year's leaders on the job and starting troop meetings, calls from unorganized groups asking for help in starting troops and training new leaders.

MRS. JAMES LOUIS BROADWAY

Broadway-Busbice Vows Are Said By Candlelight

The wedding of Miss Shirley Gay Busbice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Basil Busbice of Rayville and James Louis Broadway, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest H. Broadway of this city was solemnized at 7 P.M., Saturday, September 3, in the Gordon Ave. Methodist Church. Rev. T. A. Brown officiated. Her veil of illusion was caught to a cap of lace lined with pink satin and she carried a single purple throated white orchid, tied with satin streamers. For something old she wore a lapel watch belonging to her grandmother and a single strand of pearls.

Mrs. Jack Hollingworth, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Her ballerina length gown was of pink silk lace over taffeta. The all around gathered skirt joined the elongated bodice that featured a low wide neckline in front with collar in back continuing to form the cap sleeves. Wrist length gloves of matching lace came to points over her hands. She wore a jeweled cap of matching color and carried a bouquet of deeper pink asters with pink ribbons reaching to the hemline.

Calvin Broadway served his brother as best man. Ushers were Thad Busbice, brother of the bride, and Elwyn Keith Odom, nephew of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. White gladioli and pink chrysanthemums decorated the rooms and the bride's table covered with a white linen cloth was centered with white candles burning in crystal holders. At one end was a three tiered wedding cake iced in pink and encircled in pink hibiscus. At the other end was the crystal punch bowl. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Joyce Jones, Mrs. Earl Shultz and Mrs. George Robertson. Given in marriage by Mr. Shirley Bradley, the bride wore a gown of white lace over satin, with matching gloves. Her veil of illusion fell from a coronet of pearls. Her only ornament was a single string of pearls with matching earrings. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, tuberoses and carnations.

Mrs. George Zuber was matron of honor. She wore a full length dress of blue net over taffeta with a hat of matching material and carried a white net fan covered with white gladioli. Miss Katie Culp, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Margaret Harris, cousin of the bride, were the other attendants. Their dresses were identical to the honor attendant in shades of pink.

Norman Bracken served as best man and Harold Davis and George Zuber were ushers. Stanley Harris and Robert Moore lighted the candles.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of Mrs. L. A. Harris, aunt of the bride. Mrs. George chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of light blue silk and small hat of white. Mrs. Culp wore a two piece dress of charcoal gray with white accessories. They both wore white carnation corsages.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of pink asters. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Joann Harris, Miss Rosie Turnbow, Miss Alice Cawthorne and Miss Jane Smith.

For her wedding trip to Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Culp traveled in a navy blue faille dress fashioned along princess lines. Her accessories were white.

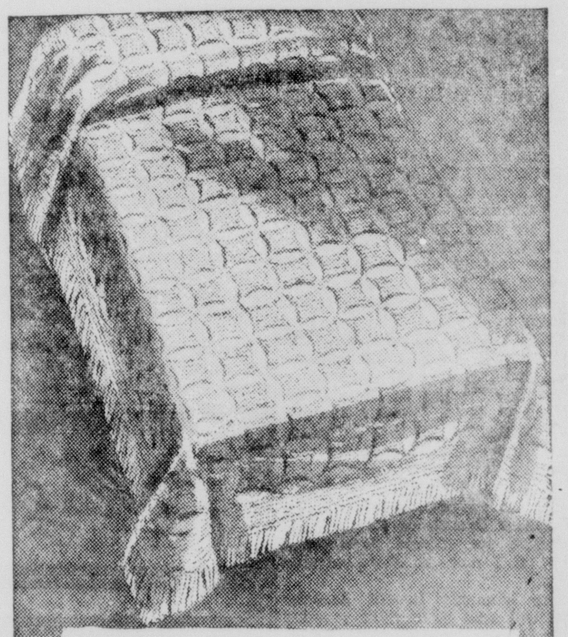

Mrs. Culp is a graduate of West Monroe High School and Mr. Culp graduated from Ouachita Parish High School. They both are attending Northeast State College. They are at home at 404 Clayton Ave., in West Monroe.

Biscuits and muffins reheat beautifully when they are tightly wrapped in aluminum foil and put into a moderate oven for about twenty minutes.

McKenzie-Lott Vows Pledged In Church Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Elsie Merle Lott, daughter of Mrs. Sabra Lott of West Monroe and Howard Lott, Monroe, and Rev. Francis Laverne McKenzie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther McKenzie, of Mt. Vernon, Ill., was solemnized late in August at the First Pentecostal Church in West Monroe. Rev. M. H. Hansford of Laurel, Miss. officiated and was assisted by the Rev. A. D. Varnado. Their vows were exchanged before a background of evergreens flanked with baskets of pink gladioli. Candelabra holding pink cathedral tapers illuminated the scene.

The wedding music was furnished by Mrs. Wayne Fordham at the piano and Mrs. Gerald Mangum was soloist with the Mangham Trio of Alexandria.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over taffeta, which featured a bouffant waltz length skirt with pointed waist line. The moulded bodice was fashioned with a high neckline and fastened with tiny lace covered buttons. Long sleeves tapered to points over her wrists. Her fingertip veil fell from a pearl studded tiara. She carried a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis mounted on a white Bible.

REVEREND AND MRS. FRANCIS LAVERNE McKENZIE

Mrs. Jack Wilson of Jackson, Miss., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Miss Peggy McKenzie and Miss Barbara McKenzie, of Mt. Vernon, Ill., sisters of the groom, Miss Robbie Dea Fuller, and Miss Janet Varnado of West Monroe. Miss Becky Antley was junior bridesmaid. The attendants wore waltz length gowns of crystallette over taffeta with matching hats and carried small white Bibles topped with baby chrysanthemums. The matron of honor was dressed in blue and the other attendants wore pink. Jan Antley was flower girl and her dress was of blue crystallette. Miss Frances Flynn and Miss Ginger McKenzie of Laurel, Miss., were candle lighters. Terry Wayne Bratton was ring bearer.

Rev. James R. Farley was the best man and groomsmen and ushers included Rev. T. F. Tenney, Rev. David Varnado of Haynesville, Jack Wilson, Jackson, Miss., C. C. McManus, Rev. W. A. Bingaman, David Biddle, Glen Smith and C. M. McBroom.

The bride's mother was wearing a dress of navy summer crepe with pink accessories and pink gladioli corsage. The groom's mother chose a navy crepe with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white gladioli.

A reception followed in a downtown restaurant. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth over blue centered with pink gladioli. The tiered wedding cake was at one end of the table and the punch service at the opposite end. Assisting in serving were Mrs. W. A. Bingaman, Mrs. Glen Smith, Miss Janet Burnette, Miss Marjorie Edwards, Miss Marie Fuller, Mrs. Edith Fuller, Miss Loretha Copeland, Miss Joyce Cosby, Miss Martha Thompson, Miss Barbara Porter, Miss Uttal Bernette and Miss Karen Craft of Tallulah. Miss Glenda Bingaman presided at the guest book.

For their wedding trip to Shreveport and Tupelo, Miss., Mrs. McKenzie traveled in a dress of navy silk with which she wore white accessories.

Out - of - town guests for the wedding were Mrs. D. Hinton and Mrs. C. C. McKenzie, and Mrs. Leon Flynt, aunts of the bride, from Laurel, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. J. C. News From The Public Library

Many of our patrons are not aware of the many services which a modern public library gives to its patrons. They think of it as a place from which a book may be borrowed to read for pleasure or profit and rarely consider the many other opportunities which are available through the resources of your public library. One of these is the use of 16mm sound films by groups or individuals who do not charge for showing them. The Ouachita Parish Public Library does not have a film collection, but we do have all sorts of information as to where film may be borrowed. We have "The Educational Film Guide" which lists and evaluates all film of an educational nature. It tells where the film may be borrowed or purchased. Then we have another list of all free film available within the state of Louisiana. We have borrowed some of this film from the oil companies, air lines, other industries and from various state agencies.

However, the best source we have for borrowing film is the Louisiana State Library in Baton Rouge. Realizing that the local public libraries were not able to set up a film collection of their own, the state library several years ago inaugurated a film service. We can write for a film and have it here for you within three days time. Recently the state library published a new edition of their film catalog and we were very happy to know how much new film had been added within the past year. The catalog first gives a list of rules for the borrower of film from the Louisiana State Library. The rules are not strict, but are intended to protect the rights of the many against the carelessness of the few.

The second part of the list is a subject index to the film listed in the catalog. The subjects alone give you an idea of the scope of the collections. These are some of the subject headings: Acadians, Aeronautics, Africa, Agriculture, Alaska, Animals, Arts and Crafts, Asia, Atomic Energy, Child Care and Study, Citizenship, City Planning, Dance and Dancing, Fishes, Flowers, Food, Indians of North America, Industry, Israel, Italy, Juvenile Delinquency, Louisiana, Marshall Plan, Mexico, Nature Study, Parliamentary Practice, Religions and Ethics, Science, United Nations, United States, West Indies, and Youth. These are only a few of the subjects on which film is available, but the list should give you some idea if the resources of the Louisiana State Library film collection.

Now let's take a look at the exact titles of some of the new film on the list. "Age of Turmoil" is a film 20 minutes in length which presents sketches of six teen-age boys and girls and the problems that confront them. "Amazon Awakes" is a 30 minute color film which tells the story of the Amazon River basin — its history, industrial progress, richness of natural resources and possibilities for the future. "Flower Arrangements of Williamsburg" is a 30 minute film in color. It describes in interesting detail the techniques for working with flowers and shows how Mrs Louise B. Fisher, one of America's foremost authorities on flower arrangements of the 18th century, creates her distinctive and widely celebrated decorations which grace the many exhibition rooms of colonial Williamsburg. "Industry on Parade No. 145" was made by the National Association of Manufacturers. This one features the McIlhenny tabasco sauce industry at Avery Island, Louisiana. "Jordan Valley" is a 19 minute film which presents a geographical background for Biblical passages following the Jordan River from Palestine to the Dead Sea. Numerous places of Biblical importance are shown.

"The Living City" is a 24 minute film which pictures vividly the urban blight which is threatening American cities. In scenes from actual communities we see how the American city got its congestion and its scars and the countermeasures which are being adopted to fight this decay. "Marine Life" is an 11 minute color film which shows the magnificence of life under the sea. "Pueblo Heritage" is a film 20 minutes in length which presents the ancient as well as the modern life of the Pueblo Indians of New Mexico. "Rome—City Eternal" is 11 minutes long in color. It portrays the rich beauty of Rome and the variety of its historic associations.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union has placed on deposit at the Louisiana State Library a group of film dealing with the problem of alcoholism. This film may be borrowed in the same way as the other film.

Remember that your parish library has a 16 mm sound projector and one of the staff members will be glad to show the film for your group, when it is possible for the librarian to schedule such service. If you are not using film in your club programs, you are missing a wonderful opportunity for pleasure and information.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY RAY BARDIN

Miss McKinnie Jerry R. Bardin Recite Vows

On Friday evening August 26, in the First Baptist Church of Marion, Miss Patricia Ann McKinnie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McKinnie, and Jerry Ray Bardin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Bardin, exchanged wedding vows in an impressive double ring ceremony.

Rev. H. E. Henderson heard the vows before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli, asters and periwinkle. Floor candelabra of burning tall white candles and flanked by palm trees completed the altar.

Nuptial music was rendered by Miss Helen Tucker, organist, and Mrs. Bobbie Burson, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in an elegant creation of nylon net over taffeta with a cathedral train. The bodice of Chantilly lace came to a point in front. A sweetheart neckline outlined with seed pearls enhanced the loveliness of the bride who carried as her bouquet a purple orchid mounted on a Bible surrounded by white French carnations.

Miss Sue McKinnie, serving her sister as maid of honor, wore a light blue ballerina length gown, white nylon gloves, and blue ruffled net headband. She carried a bouquet of purple Feiji mums. The bridesmaid, Mrs. Floyd Edwards of Monroe, also wore a ballerina length gown of blue and carried a bouquet of asters.

The candles were lighted by Miss Jo Ann Upshaw of Marion, and Miss Gail Herrod, of Clinton, who wore white nylon net ballerina length gowns, white nylon gloves, net head bands and white carnation waist corsages.

Alton Graves served as best man. Wayne Causey and Ardis Lee Phillips were ushers.

Miss Mary Ann McKinnie of Ruston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McKinnie, served her cousin as flower girl wearing a pink floor length net gown with tiny nosegays on the skirt. She carried a pink maline puff with sprays of lily of the valley.

Freddie Mack Reppond, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Reppond of Marion acted as ring bearer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McKinnie chose a gray taffeta princess model. She wore a small block sequined hat and corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother, Mrs. Bardin, chose a smart navy crepe dress and small white velvet hat. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cass Cole. Floral arrangements of red roses were placed at vantage points throughout the house. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of roses in cut glass surrounded by tapers entwined with ivy. The conventional bride and groom topped the three tiered wedding cake which was served by Mrs. Curtis Reppond of Marion and Mrs. S. E. Reppond of Monroe.

Mrs. Byram McKinnie of Ruston and Mrs. Wayne Warren of Monroe served the punch.

The bride selected as her going away suit a two piece black and white tweed of imported cotton worn with black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

After a honeymoon in Eureka Springs and other places in the Ozark Mountains, the couple are at home at 410 Stubbs Avenue, Monroe.

Out - of - town guests attending the wedding were: Miss Gail Herrod, Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McKinnie, Mary Ann and Jeffry, Eloise and Judy, Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Montgomery, Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Cobb and Gayville, Farmerville, Mrs. W. B. McKinnie, Linville, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Better Breakfast Month

September has been declared Better Breakfast Month for the past five years. Are you in the group that is eating a better breakfast? Good breakfast habits are essential for maximum mental and physical efficiency during the late morning hours. If you skip the day's most important meal, you short - change yourself of the food nutrients missed at this meal, and they are rarely ever made up at other meals. From a recent study, it was found that a medium - size breakfast which supplied twenty-five per cent of the day's calories gave greater work output than a heavy morning meal supplying forty per cent of the daily calories. These studies revealed that hunger is controlled by a section of the brain. Various changes in the makeup of the blood passing through this brain center act to set off feelings of hunger. The amount of sugar in the blood controls the appetite. As you use up energy, the amount of sugar in the blood drops, causing the hunger signal.

The energy food, carbohydrates, increase the blood sugar. This sugar disappears rapidly and hunger signals flash. Proteins also raise the blood sugar level and hold it above the hunger mark for a longer period, so be sure your breakfast contains protein — egg, lean meat. So, for maximum mental and physical efficiency join the Better Breakfast group.

Care of Iron

When starch sticks and scorches on the hot iron, there's a temptation to scratch it off with a knife —the result is likely to be permanent scratches on the plate of the iron. Once scratched, the iron may catch on fabrics and pull threads. There are several simple ways to remove starch without damaging the iron. If the iron is hot, do it this way. Shake salt on a piece of paper and rub the iron back and forth over the salt until the starch rubs off. From a cool iron, starch may be removed by scouring with silver polish or very fine steel wool. As a prevention against sticking starch, rub a little beeswax or paraffin frequently over the hot surface of the iron. Well - cooked starch is less likely to stick than starch which is not thoroughly cooked, so it pays to prepare it carefully.

Corn syrup and canned whole cranberry sauce make a good glaze for ham.

Population, Rising Incomes Contribute To Housing Industry

By ROBERT F. MORISON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—(UP)—Not only are rising incomes and a growing population helping to maintain the housing boom, but such factors as the tearing down of older homes and the chance to trade-in a house on a new one help to strengthen demand.

New non-farm households formed at an annual average of 977,000 between 1950 and 1955. New construction during that period averaged better than one million new nonfarm units a year.

Older dwellings, industry officials believe, are being torn down at a rate of about 300,000 per year although many are immediately replaced by public housing units.

Still, the disappearance of older housing inevitably results in many former occupants moving to new, privately constructed dwellings, they feel.

Industry experts believe the trend to replace unfit city housing units will continue and expand as the public becomes more concerned about "blighted" areas.

Of the estimated 45 million dwelling units in the United States, not including farm houses, government experts believe about eight million are substandard. That does not mean, they point out, that all should now be replaced. But it indicates that possibly one-fifth of the urban population could use better housing.

The National Association of Home Builders believes the annual one million - plus home building rate maintained since 1949 can be sustained through 1960, largely on the growing population, higher incomes and the rate at which older housing is becoming unusable.

The chance to trade in an existing home for a new one — just as one would an automobile—makes it easier for the home owner to move to more expensive housing or larger quarters to suit his higher income or larger family.

The National Savings and Loan League estimates more than two million families will move from the $4,000 salary bracket to $6,000 this year. This offers, the league says, a "huge new market" for home builders in the $12,000 to $15,000 price range.

The NAHB views the trade-in program as double-barrelled since it allows owners to dispose of their present homes conveniently while buying new ones and permits lower-income families to buy better, though older, homes.

The trade-in can work this way: A family is paying on its present home but wants a new one. The Federal Housing Administration is asked to appraise the older home. The difference between the appraised value and the mortgage represents the possible down payment — or part of it — to the builder. If the builder agrees that the difference is acceptable as a down payment, the buyer obtains an FHA-insured loan on the new house and moves in while turning over to the builder the deed to his older home.

NAHB is promoting a program whereby builders enter this type of deal either individually or by forming holding companies to conduct the transactions. In order to obtain FHA backing, however, it is necessary for the builder to improve the older property before it is put back on the market.

He does this by obtaining, prior to completion of the trade-in sale, a commitment from FHA. This insures that the home owner trading in his older home can buy the new one and that prospective buyers for his former home will be able to finance it under FHA terms more liberal than conventional home loans.

The builder uses his FHA commitments to obtain loans to improve the older property and make it more attractive to prospective buyers.

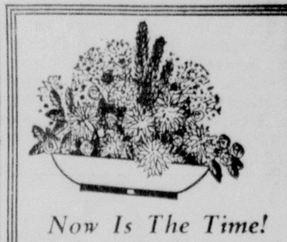

NAHB believes the home building industry is beginning a phase the automobile industry entered years ago when it discovered car owners could be persuaded to buy new models if they could get a reasonable price for their old cars.

How the Title 'So Great A Good' Was Chosen . . .

Pulitzer prize-winner Hodding Carter and his wife, Betty Carter, co-authors of the forth-coming book "So Great a Good," chose these words from a quotation made over 115 years ago for the title of the authorized History of the Louisiana Episcopal Diocese and Christ Church Cathedral.

In their research, the Carters discovered that in 1838, James Lovell, member of the organizational committee of the Louisiana Episcopal Diocese, said, in speaking of the organization of the Diocese:

"So great a good could not be brought about without stirring up the wrath of Satan . . . Indeed, I should doubt whether the work were of God had we no opposition to contend with."

Here in "So Great a Good" simply narrated from a layman's point-of-view, are more than 450 fascinating pages of history written to commemorate the Sesquicentennial of the first Prayer Book service in the Louisiana Purchase Territory.

It is to be published for the Diocese by the University of the South Press, at Sewanee—in two editions

West Monroe Church To List Religious Ties

Final instructions were given and materials issued yesterday in the Edgewood Baptist Church where pastors and other workers met to lay final plans for the taking of a religious census in West Monroe on September 18th, Sunday. Melvin Bradley, chairman of the census committee, said that "Over 5,000 homes would be contacted in West Monroe on Census Day. Around 800 volunteer workers from all the churches of West Monroe will offer their services in the churches on September 18th.

Each church has been assigned a specific territory that they are responsible for in West Monroe and their duty will be to complete a thorough census in their assigned area.

The census has become an annual activity that most all churches of the West Monroe Area cooperate with. The information is made available to all the churches and is used to help provide a more useful religious life for the community.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

QUESTION: Is it God's will that all people should be healed? B. E. W.

ANSWER: If there is universal healing for all who have enough faith, then such faith could keep an individual alive indefinitely. I do not question that God has the power to heal sickness miraculously and I know that such cases have occurred and that they do occur today. However, Paul had some physical handicap which he spoke of as a "thorn in the flesh." He asked God to remove it but His prayer was not answered in that way. God had something better for him and told him: "My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness." But, when thinking of God's provision for healing we should never forget that all of the wonders of modern medicine and surgery come from the loving and bountiful hand of God. Can we not thank God for the relief penicillin brings? It is God who created this and all other drugs and gave men the wisdom to discover their presence and usage in the world. Can we not thank God when a surgeon removes an inflamed appendix? It is God who has made possible that operation.

S. S. Planning Meet To Be Held By Faith Church

An Associational Sunday School planning meeting will be held at the Faith Baptist Church in Monroe on Tuesday night, September 13, beginning at 7:30 p.m. This meeting is sponsored by the Sunday School organization of the Ouachita Parish Baptist Association and is for all eighteen churches of the association.

The meeting is designed to help each church launch a real porgram of evangelism and Bible study for next year. Among the topics to be discussed will be "Special Emphasis for Next Year;" "Purposes in Sunday School Work for Next Year;" "Means for Achieving These Purposes." The program personel will consist of the people who attended the state planning meeting at Arcadia First Church last week.

Surplus Foods To Be Sent To Feed Hungry Overseas

American Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations working together through Church World Service expect to distribute a total of 141,774,425 pounds of U. S. government surplus foods free to needy persons overseas during 1955 under the "Share Our Surplus" program being carried out by CWS on behalf of its constituent communions.

This vast amount of foodstuffs—loaded in boxcars it would make a train more than 40 miles long — is scheduled to go to hungry, homeless and destitute people in 29 countries in Europe, Asia, Africa and South America.

The tremendous scope of this year's "Share Our Surplus" undertaking of the denominations was announced by R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, following approval of the scheduled shipments by denominational representatives and authorization by the CWS Executive committee of necessary expenditures for the world - wide distribution during the months immediately ahead.

Cost of the year's S-O-S operation is estimated at approximately $1,000,000, Mr. Wilson said, these funds to be provided by denominational and individual church and community contributions in response to the "Share Our Surplus" appeal of the Surplus Commodity Distribution program, as well as the contributions through CROP, the Christian Rural Overseas Program of Church World Service, and the direct contribution of individual church men, women and children.

Grayson Church Plans For Deep Revival Interest

Edgewood Will Expand; Plans For Next Year

The Edgewood Baptist Church announces the purchase of the house and property of Max Bryan on Drago St. in West Monroe, adjacent to their present church property at a cost of $9,500. According to the pastor, Rev. O. P. Bazer, the house will be utilized by October 1 to house an adult Sunday school department. He stated that this would greatly help in the expansion program of the church and give badly needed space.

The new church year will begin October 1 and Edgewood will begin with a completely departmentalized Sunday school and the addition of fourteen new classes and many new teachers and department superintendents. The baby building of the church which was opened in July is now operating at full capacity and boasts one of the most completely equipped and staffed nurseries in the area.

THE HOME SHIFT—

With Mildred Swift

Functional Look In Landscaping

Now that Junior and Sister are comfortably adjusted to school life, whether in kindergarten or college, Mom and Dad can settle down to normal life and — gardening. Speaking of Dad's gardening, have you joined the Men's Garden club? The preveiw of the year's work certainly sounded interesting. One of our Men's Garden clubs in a nearby city ran a contest on the most beautiful lawn, last spring.

The New Look

Yes, there is definitely a new look in landscaping. It's called the functional look. The grounds are planned for the owner's personal use and enjoyment and not for the general public. That's the reason Dr. Reich gave for no foundation planting. Most of us are inside the house more than outside, so we should consider foundation planting with that in mind.

During Farm and Home Week, Dr. Reich defined foundation planting as "a more or less continuous planting all the way around the house." He went on to say "I advocate planting that is not continuous and one that is some distance from the building. I also advocate a planting that extends from some part of the building, continuing a line of the building into the lawn.

"The kind of planting I recommend is one that is some distance from the house, not right up against it. That is so that the people on the inside can see the plants and they will therefore have some meaning to them. A practical reason against planting near the house is that dense shrubbery causes dampness. Planting near the house is nearly always overdone. Maybe a blank wall would be monotonous, but break that space with one plant and you add interest.

"I also approve of one or two plants at the doorway of a house, but please avoid the use of two rigid plants standing like sentinels. Hospitality is not induced by sentinels. Your doorway planting may be something with fragrance.

"Some trees can be placed right up close to a building because of their character to arch out and grow away from the wall. Redbud is an example of such a tree, but Mimosa is even better. Trees of that type will grow up and will provide shade, which is good, but they don't block out the view or the breezes which would be bad. You surely wouldn't want an oak in such a situation because it would grow straight up. Sweet olive is a good plant for use near the doorway because it is fragrant nine months out of the year.'

Then, Dr. Reich took up the site, about which he said, "The character of the site should be preserved, bulldozers should not be brought in to level off rolling land — some changes in contour may be made but not any that would change the character of the land. Trees, of course, should be preserved, as well as any native shrubs. Then shape the plan to include these plants.

There is much more to landscape designing than most people realize. It involves the organization of outdoor space in such a way as to produce the maximum enjoyment for people who will be in those spaces." I thought you would like to hear this landscape architects ideas and reasons for his thinking. We have a landscape bulletin written by our Extension Home Garden Specialist and Dr. Reich. If you're interested call 3-2251 and request a copy.

Some Twin City Views

While driving down Auburn street last Sunday, I found so much beauty. Just start at Second street and go all the way through 'til you reach a dead end. In the spring the mimosas almost make a complete arch over the street. There are some very large dogwoods. Now the crepe myrtles are spectacular. The new homes across the railroad are taking on shape, indicating home owners who are interested gardeners.

Bill and Ann Harper (Judge Bill and wife) have planted a most inexpensive but spectacular red castor bean hedge for a screen planting. Drive by 708 Joseph street and see this one hundred and fifty foot row of beauty. The castor bean will grow to almost tree size and helps in quick shading, too.

To Market, To Market

Americans are eating better than ever. They are carrying record amounts of good things to eat out of food markets — and they are paying the bill with one - fourth of their income. This year the average person will consume seventy-nine pounds of beef, sixty-seven pounds of pork, ten pounds of veal and four pounds of lamb and mutton. No figures available on amount of poultry. The main item in most American's meals is meat.

For all this good eating you, the average consumer will pay out nine hundred seventy - five dollars. The farmer will get about four hundred dollars of this or forty-one per cent. During the past five years the farmer has been getting forty - six per cent. In years just before World War Two his share was about forty per cent.

Announcements

Your "Open House" shows for next week are as follows: Monday, Audrey Dawson and several of her 4-H club members will show you how to identify cuts of meat and will bring you some beautiful models of clothes you can make. Tuesday we'll have some clothing work; Wednesday, Mary Margaret will bring flower arrangements from the Fifth District Garden Center; Thursday Mr. Huffman from North Louisiana State College and American Red Cross will give you practical first aid; Friday is marketing day.

See you next Sunday.

Garden Center Notes

By Mary M. Jardine

Garden Clubs To Begin Regular Meetings

The Town and Country Garden Club of Monroe presented a beautiful flower show at the Garden Center this week. The arrangements were judged by an accredited judge. Mrs. Amos Shelton and Mrs. Robert Oliver tied for first place with high blue ribbon scores. Mrs. Shelton chose for her container a round lavender pink bowl in which she created a beautiful crescent arrangement in shades of lavender purple to dark red. The crescent line was established with the hyacinth bean vine showing both the lovely flowers and seed pods. Dark red coleus strengthened the line. As a center of interest in the curve of the crescent three lavender zinnias were used. These were framed by the foliage of the dark purple wandering jew. The arrangement was placed on a marble base against a rosy pink background. The color harmony and design pattern was most pleasing.

Mrs. Robert Oliver designed a mass arrangement in greens and yellow shading into orange. A dark green pottery compote was used for a container. Jane used furled green canna leaves for the background of her design. Spikes of chartreuse celosia were used against the green leaves and the rounded heads of cockscomb celosia in shades of light yellow, deep yellow and orange completed the mass design. Small green caladium leaves softened the lines of the container. The combination of materials and colors was most delightful.

Mrs. Richard Kellogg designed a most intriguing composition with an Oriental air. A flat blue green bowl was used for the design of ginger lily foliage with one lavender pink bloom in the center. Airy bamboo stalks were skillfully placed between the other foliage. The holder was concealed with a small piece of finger coral. A small Chinese figurine in the guise of the ancient philosopher was used as an accessory. He sat as though contemplating the Oriental garden scene. This arrangement was most dramatic set against a chartreuse background.

Here is a date for your calendar! Flower Show School No. III will be held in Ruston on the Louisiana Tech campus on November 2, 3 and 4. The instructiors will be Mrs. Ione Talbert, Fort Worth, Flower Arranging, and Mrs. Walter Colquitt, Shreveport, on Horticulture and Flower Show Practice.

In addition to the school Mrs. Talbert will give a special Flower Arrangement lecture and demonstration on Tuesday, November 1, at 2 p.m. in the Tech Little Theater. Her theme will be "Contemporary Arrangements." The public is cordially invited. There is a nominal fee for this lecture. And—speaking of calendars! The new 1956 Flower Arrangement Calendars have arrived and we are very proud to note that the Jonesboro-Hodge Garden Club is represented by a picture in this lovely book. The design is a Christmas one—Herald angels of Dresden china in a glitter of pink, silver and gold magnolia leaves. The arranger is Mrs. Paul Bourg. Congratulations!

Here we are in September again and the regular meetings of the garden clubs have begun: Tensas Garden Club of St. Joseph had as their September speaker, John A. Wright, of Louisiana Tech on Bulbs for the Garden. The Tallulah Home Gardeners program will be "How, When and Why Prune?" Bayou DeSiard Garden Club will feature Mrs Robert Farr in a program "How To Attract Birds to the Garden." Monroe Garden Club will start start their fall program with Mrs. M. B. Latham of Jackson, Miss. A lecture demonstration on Church Arrangements.

Here's another date to mark on your calendar, Wednesday September 21, John A. Wright of Louisiana Tech will start a series of flower arrangement lectures on television, Mildred Swift's Open House Show at one p.m.

The bidding:

South, 1 spade; West, 2 clubs; North, 2 diamonds; East, Pass.
South, 2 spades; West, Pass; North, 3 spades; East, Pass.
South, 4 spades; West, Pass; North, Pass; East, Pass.

Opening lead: Ace of clubs.

What seemed to be a lucky stab on the part of South in today's hand proved in fact to be a play based on sound analysis.

South opened with a border-line bid of one spade. West made a doubtful overcall of two clubs, and after North's two diamond call, South had no choice but to rebid spades. North was then in a position to raise with only two trumps, and South in a display of virility, went on to four.

West led the ace of clubs and in compliance with East's signal continued the suit. Declarer could not afford to ruff with the 10 of spades. If he did so and then cashed the ace of trumps, he would have to lose, in all, one spade, one diamond and two clubs. If he refrains from cashing the ace of spades but drives out the ace of diamonds instead, the defense can lead a third round of clubs and force dummy's ace of trumps. This action will build up two trump tricks for the defense. So declarer permitted the club lead to ride.

East, upon winning with the king of clubs, returned the suit, and declarer won with the queen. Attacking trumps immediately, he led a spade to the ten, which held. The spade ace was cashed, dropping the queen, and declarer returned to his hand with a heart and drew the remaining trumps in two rounds. He now had ample time to drive out the ace of diamonds in fulfilment of the contract.

South had chosen the proper play. He must avoid the loss of a spade trick. If the suit happens to break 3-3, the hand can be won by finessing for the queen in the proper direction. But if, as is more probable, the suit breaks 4-2, it will avail declarer nothing to guess the location of the queen if it is in the hand with four, for the defense will have one sure trick in the suit however declarer plays. If East has the queen and one other spade, the hand cannot be won, for as the ten is returned from dummy the cover will set up a trick for West, who will then hold the nine and three little spades.

But if West has the queen and one spade or the queen and two, declarer can pick up the entire suit by finessing the 10 on the first round.

SOUTHERN GARDENER—

By William Lanier Hunt

Joe-Pye Weed Has Place In Garden

Some of our rank growing weeds and wild flowers are beautiful in the background of the garden at this time of the year. Did you ever think about actually planting and cultivating the deep violet wild aster that we call iron weed? You would be surprised at the gorgeous display it makes when given even half a chance. Joe-pye weed is a beautiful thing in cultivation, too. This tall giant with its huge heads of misty dusty lavender will respond to fertilizer and a place in the garden. Both of these wild flowers will grow to be enormous—ten to twelve feet tall if they get plenty of water and are fed just like the rest of the garden. At this time of the year, they make a very telling group together. If some large clumps of that tall ornamental grass with the tremendous heads of feathery grass flowers are also planted in the group, you will have something that will certainly take care of itself with little or no care. You would not have to mow and clean up their spot except to pull out the weeds for one season while these three plants were getting started. They can surely take care of themselves after one season.

Iron weeds and joe - pye weed can be easily transplanted right in flower with a large clump of dirt. There are lots of handsome yellow weeds along our ditch banks and farm roads which can also be added to these two. In England and on the continent, Americans are finding their weeds growing as cultivated plants. Under garden conditions, you would hardly recognize them. Our summer droughts so often prevent the summer wild flowers from reaching their full development that we seldom see them at their best. A wet season allows them to show what they can really do. In areas where it has rained a great deal this summer, the many golden flowered species in the sunflower group are gorgeous right now. Go out and find the best one and bring them into the waste places in your garden. You might as well have pretty weeds as ugly ones, and certainly, there is little danger of destroying these plentiful weeds.

If you like to raise perennials from seeds, now is the easiest time for us here in the southern states to raise a batch of good plants for the garden. Don't forget the hardy annuals and the biennials, too. The main thing to think about is preparing a good rich seed bed near a source of water so that the seedlings can be kept growing with water if the rains fall. Once the seed have sprouted, keep the little plants well fertilized and watered. Any of the liquid or highly water soluble fertilizers will make the young plants "jump." A sun shade will help immeasurably, too. It will keep the moisture up by preventing too rapid evaporation. Tobacco cloth is excellent because it admits a lot of light but prevents sun scalding. When the little plants begin to crowd each other in the rows, transplant them into new rows a few inches apart each way. By November when those wonderful gardening days come to us in Dixie, you will have a stock of plants with which to make the garden blossom in abundance next year. And, by the way, do not be afraid to try some new plants this year. The seeds cost little, and you may get something that suits you perfectly.

Cuttings of 11 kinds can be rooted in a cold frame right now, too. Under tobacco cloth, they will make new plants in about six weeks.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer To Question No. 1

1. Yes. (1) Persons between 40 and 70 are far younger than even 25 years ago. (2) Science has learned how — by diet, vitamins, hormones, etc. — to prolong most people's lives about eight years and the period of "buoyant health" about fifteen years. (3) psychologists have proved you have as strong a mind at 75 as at 25. You lose some mental speed, but nothing in mental power. (4) Older workers have less absenteeism—are more reliable. (5) Within 34 years one of every two persons will be past 45. Politicians, employers, labor leaders — base your policies on facts, not old theories.

Answer To Question No. 2

2. False — just the opposite. Once in a while, some well-adjusted individual will admit he "sleeps like a log," but he is a rare bird. Nine out of ten like to tell long-winded stories about how they lie awake until two or three a.m. A person with insomnia delights in talking about it as much as people like to discuss their operations. I sleep when I want to because I have learned how to relax. Our booklet, "How To Relax," will show you how to do it. Nonprofit, 15 cents (coin only) and stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Answer To Question No. 3

3. President Lynn White, Jr., Mills Women's College, says in "Educating Our Daughters," apart from a little home economics, we give them the same education as men — for a vocation. But the "noble vocation" of motherhood usually leaves a woman stranded when her children marry. A woman will likely out live her husband five or six years, and she should be educated to keep herself busy and interested in life during this time.

Since January 1, 42 parishes have had one or more patients hospitalized. Eight of the patients were out - of - state residents. Twenty-two parishes have not had a case hospitalized at any of the treatment centers, it was reported today by F. Owen Grace, Louisiana representative for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Caddo, with 37 cases, has the highest toll, followed by Orleans, 27; Ouachita, 23; East Baton Rouge, 16; Bossier, 15, and Morehouse, 10.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR: JUNIOR EDITORS

FUN IN THE BACKYARD—5

The Hammock

Here's a Junior Editor who likes to swing in the old hammock in his backyard. All his friends get a chance to swing. Five swings cost a penny. The same penny is passed back and forth so that everyone really gets a free turn.

This is how you can use the hammock. Paste down the picture on stiff paper and color it with crayons or paints. Be sure you color the front and back the same.

Fold the picture in half so the front and back match perfectly. Then cut out the center and the outside along the black lines and paste the halves together.

Put a piece of string through the holes at the ends of the hammock and hang it on a branch like the little picture in the center.

Just push a little and the Junior Editor in the hammock will swing.

SHRINE CIRCUS

An Outstanding Assembly of the World's Greatest Circus Stars and Performing Animals

Dear Sponsor:

You, as a "CIRCUS DADDY" will once again bring pleasure to healthy children . . . and earn help for those not so fortunate.

This year's expansion of our Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children is made possible by efforts such as the Shrine Circus. And when you purchase your "Circus Daddy" tickets this year, you are actively contributing to this wonderful cause.

Once again, we are eliminating the practice of asking business firms to buy an advertisement in our Shrine Circus Program. Instead, we are asking that you help us make it possible for every school child in Northeast Louisiana to enjoy the wonderful Shrine Circus as guests of the sponsoring firms.

However, we feel that the generosity of the "CIRCUS DADDYS" do deserve public attention. And so, in the special Northeast Louisiana Shrine Circus Program, we will list the names of the donors with our fervent thanks.

Very shortly a Shriner will call on you asking you to purchase a block of tickets to the circus to be given away FREE to school children with YOUR COMPLIMENTS. If, however, you want tickets before you are called on, contact either of the Shriners whose name appears below or any Shriner.

We will see to it that the tickets you purchase will be imprinted with your name and distributed to the school children through their various schools. If you prefer, the tickets will be given to you for distribution. Last year hundreds of letters of appreciation were received from grateful children expressing their delight at having been treated to this wonderful circus by their "CIRCUS DADDYS."

Why Grow Old

Exercises For Fat In Certain Areas Of Body

Many women who are the correct weight, who have slim waists and flat abdomens, nevertheless have fatty deposits over the diaphragm. Others have quite slender figures but have lots of fat across the shoulders.

Special exercise rather than diet is the answer to these figure defects. If such a woman diets she will lose all over, in the spots in which she does not wish to lose as well as in the ones she wants to decrease. Also, she would lose weight which she should have. Today I will give you a few exercises for these special problems.

For Diaphragm

For slimming the diaphragm: Stand tall. Raise your arms over your head, one arm by each ear. Keep the arms in this position as you make large circles with your trunk. Pull in each direction, making the circles as large as comfortable. Circle first in one direction and then in the other.

Another: Lie on the floor on your back, arms resting on the floor at your sides. Stretch back with the left arm and forward with the right leg. The arm and leg do not leave the floor. Do this slowly and hold at the maximum stretch while you count slowly to five. Relax. Next, stretch backward with the right arm and forward with the left leg. Hold. Relax and repeat. About ten times with each arm and leg.

Shoulder Fat

Now let us consider first aid for fat across the shoulders. Stand erect. Raise both arms sideward, shoulder height, palms facing forward. Do this in a relaxed manner. Now swing the arms forward at shoulder height and cross the arms, pulling as far across as possible. Elbows are relaxed when you do this. The pull comes from the shoulders. Hold a few seconds. Return arms to sideward, shoulder height position, in a relaxed manner. Continue.

All of these exercises should be done in a relaxed, slow manner because the stretch is the principle on which they rely.

HELP FROM A STRANGER— Glenn Ford comes to Eleanor Parker's aid when she is at a loss for a handkerchief—an incident which ultimately leads to their romance and marriage. It's a scene from "Interrupted Melody," lyrical love story based on the dramatic life of famed singer Marjorie Lawrence. Filmed in CinemaScope and color, the new M-G-M picture is highlighted by some of the world's greatest music. Starts today at the Jim.

In Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

Vacation Days Over

By RICHARD EGAN

(While Jimmie Fidler is on vacation this column is being written by prominent motion picture personalities)

HOLLYWOOD, September 10 — So, Jimmie, you're going on a vacation. Well, you can have it. Personally, though everyone keeps asking me when I'm going to take one after doing six pictures in the past year, all I can say is I have no craving for one. I've had too many enforced holidays — "between engagements" is the actor's term for 'em, but to me it was just plain job hunting - in the six years I've been in Hollywood.

Now that I've finished working in "The View From Pompey's Head," my best part to date - and am lucky enough to have 14 scripts to choose from for my next role- I don't aim to hibernate in a resort swimming pool. That first year in Hollywood, when I got to do bit roles in four pictures — totaling about 10 days work — is too fresh in my mind. I'll wait another 10 or 20 years before yelling "I need a rest."

Right now, I'm too happy to be working in one picture after another and in such a diversity of roles. "Pompey's Head" is my 30th picture. Most of them, as you know, have been adventure and action films, with every kind of fight under water and above ground. So you'll pardon the plug, if I tell you I've got my first real talking part in "Pompey's Head." In fact, I counted up 726 lines, and I've enjoyed every bit of memorizing I've had to do. In fact, I couldn't have been more surprised and delighted than when I was given the part by Producer - Director Phil Dunne. Next thing you know, I'll be doing a Noel Coward drawing room comedy! Okay, so that's far-fetched.

Anyway, it's a mighty good feeling to be working regularly. Not that I'm bitter about all the turndowns I got in Hollywood. Quite the contrary. I know it was good for me, though at the time every studio in Hollywood tested me, or used the back of my head to test various lovelies they were thinking of signing, and gave me the old thumbs down.

But I don't admire this attitude some have that they can only practice the art of acting elsewhere than in Hollywood. I can understand wanting to elsewhere, if you can't get roles you like here, but that's true of any place you work at any job you work at. Sure, I myself was on the verge of heading for New York after MGM, Columbia, Warners, and U. I. turned me down for contracts. I was disappointed, because I'd had considerable stage experience, but I wasn't bitter then and I'm not now.

I don't hold with people who grow bitter about Hollywood producers. Even when I didn't get contracts they never closed the door entirely. At least they gave me bit roles which gave me the necessary experience — and film experience is different than stage experience — so that eventually when I did get a fairly good role, I was ready for it.

It's no different than in competitive business life. They don't make you a vice president at once, they start you as an office boy, and you learn the ropes gradually before you rate promotions. I absolutely resent the tendency, the attitude to look down at those who run the motion picture business.

Only extreme youth, or at least a mental and emotional naivete, expects to start at the top. Once in a blue moon, it can be done—when there's a personality so overpowering it shines through. But I can't say — as some have tried to make me imply — that the business is hard and cold. It's just that when you're young, you're impatient.

You don't hire a carpenter just because he looks good in overalls, he has to know his craft and be experienced in it. The same goes for a business man, any other professional man or craftsman. It certainly goes for an actor.

It's six - and - a - half years since I came to Hollywood. Out of the 30 pictures I've done, "Pompey's Head" is my eighth lead or co - starring part. Althought it's a non - violent part, I play a well-rounded character who is the active protagonist in the story. I know darn well I'd have flopped at such a role six years ago. I have a comfortable feeling about it now, though I was nervous at getting a terrific part, I'll admit.

What makes me more comfortable is that two - picture - a - year deal contract I have with Darryl F. Zanuck, which gives me time for outside pictures. But I've done four, instead of two for him in less than a year.

But enjoy your vacation, Jimmie. The only thing wrong with my slaving away is that at last I've got enough for a down payment on a house, and haven't got time to look for one. But, boy, that's a better feeling than wondering where your next week's room rent is coming from — and how!

Blues Film At Paramount Will Feature Webb

The new Jack Webb you'll see in "Pete Kelly's Blues," which opens next Sunday at the Paramount Theatre, is barely recognizable as the familiar figure seen in "Dragnet."

A cornet has replaced the police badge, bow ties and colored shirts the black tie and white shirt he's worn consistently as Joe Friday. The voice is the same, but instead of "just give me the facts, ma'am,' it says, "you want a bottle of beer?" Even Friday's haircut has been revamped to a 1927 butch.

"I know I'll be a surprise to a lot of people when they see me," said Jack. "Maybe even a shock. But it was time for a change.

"I've made 140 'Dragnet' TV episodes, 320 for radio and one full length motion picture. People are bound to lose interest eventually in seeing me in the same role. I wanted to get into something else before they reached that stage."

"Pete Kelly's Blues" is a musical melodrama and Jack's first experience in directing and acting in CinemaScope. He portrays Pete Kelly, cornet - playing leader of a band. He's surrounded himself with other stars like Janet Leigh, Edmond O'Brien, Peggy Lee, Andy Devine, Lee Marvin and Ella Fitzgerald.

Janet Leigh, a gin - drinking, joy-seeking rich girl of the prohibition era, is Jack's flaming, short-skirted fiance. Edmond O'Brien is a racketeer who wears a red carnation and Peggy Lee is a singer.

Andy Devine is a police detective, like Joe Friday, and gets very little help in chasing lawbreakers from Pete Kelly. Lee Marvin and singer Ella Fitzgerald are the rest of the star names.

The movie has been long planned. Jack became a jazz enthusiast back in his teen years when he worshipped at the shrines of Bix Beiderbecke, Billy Butterfield, Johnny Hodges and Benny Goodman.

Even before getting a foothold in radio, or before "Dragnet" was born, he dreamed of doing a show based on the character of a jazz musician. In 1951, two years after launching "Dragnet", he produced "Pete Kelly's Blues" on radio for 13 weeks as a summer replacement.

This was the "seed" from which Richard L. Breen wrote the screenplay for the motion picture. The story is laid in Kansas City in 1927. Jazz music was enjoying great popularity. Violence caused by prohibition racketeering was at its height.

Webb reportedly combined both these elements in his production, filmed in WarnerColor and Employing the same group of eight musicians for the recording band that played for the radio "Pete Kelly's Blues."

About 37 musical numbers, not all complete, are sung or played in "Pete Kelly's Blues."

"We're using actual songs and arrangements of that era, like 'Sugar,' 'Smiles,' 'Hard-Hearted Hannah,' 'Somebody Loves Me' and 'I Never Knew.' In addition there are three new numbers and two spirituals.

CITY DRAINAGE WORK

BATON ROUGE — UP —Ray Burgess, city public works director, says work was to begin today on underground channels to improve the drainage systems of the city. A $200,000 state drainage project will be underway soon on the LSU campus with the major portion of the funds to be spent for culvert work.

Do not use salted butter for greasing a cake pan; the salt in the butter is apt to make the cake stick.

TIERNEY AND BOGART CO-STAR—Gene Tierney plays a mission nurse and Humphrey Bogart a man who profanes the cloth he wears to escape a Chinese warlord in "The Left Hand of God," William E. Barrett's powerful drama of China in 1947, now showing in a CinemaScope production at the Paramount Theater. Lee J. Cobb is the warlord in the Twentieth Century Fox picture, which has been filmed in color by De Luxe by producer Buddy Adler and director Edward Dmytryk.

Abbott And Costello At Funniest In Latest Role

Universal - International's new comedy, "Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy," which opens Thursday at the Jim Theatre, represents two milestones in the history of the popular comedians.

First, their new film offering is a milestone in the field of mirth. Secondly it represents a milestone in the fact that it is their fortieth film together—and judging from boxoffice reports — it is their best to date.

This reviewer would like to go on record making the wish that Bud Abbott and Lou Costello appear together in another forty films. And after that another forty.

Modern-day Egypt is the background for "Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy." Seen as two stranded Americans in Egypt, Bud and Lou inadvertently become involved in a search for the Sacred Medallion of the Mummy of Klaris.

The prized Medallion directs the way to the Tomb of Princess Ara, with its rich treasure of gold and jewels.

Cloak and dagger intrigue enters the search for the Medallion when Marie Windsor, seen as the head of a band of culprits, and Richard Deacon, head of a cult, also seek the prized medal.

The comedy reaches its rib-tickling highlight when Costello locates the Medallion but later swallows it. He is X-rayed, the hieroglyphics on the medal are deciphered and the search for the buried treasure gets underway.

In addition to Marie Windsor, the comedy's large supporting cast is headed by Michael Ansara and television singer Peggy King.

MOST SENSATIONAL DISCOVERY IN 40 YEARS FOR BETTER BAKING AND FRYING!

FIRST ALL-NEW SHORTENING!

It's RICH! It's YELLOW!

Procter & Gamble's Golden Fluffo

THIS BAKING CHAMPION OF ALL ALABAMA FAIR, Mrs. J. T. Portera, says:—

"You should see the white cake I made with this rich yellow shortening! Used my same old recipe—but changed from white shortening to Fluffo. My cake was absolutely wonderful—had such fine texture—tasted so rich! And still it was nice and white.

"And I used Fluffo in my icing. Talk about rich! This was the richest, easiest-spreading frosting I ever made!"

"No white shortening ever gave me a cake like this!" says this expert Southern cook who won first prize blue ribbon for her baking.

What a cake it makes!

RICHER-LOOKING... BETTER-TASTING... MORE APPETIZING!

Yes, Fluffo cakes are the highest, lightest, most delicious golden-rich cakes you can possibly bake!

Why? Because fabulous, new, easy-to-mix Fluffo blends into smooth, rich batter never possible before with any other shortening! Glorifies yellow and chocolate cakes—gives delicate moist richness to your white cakes . . . yet leaves them white!

Like cooking champions, you'll be truly excited about golden Fluffo! It gives you high, light, delicate cakes such as you've never been able to bake before . . . richer-looking and better-tasting, by far, than any you can get from white shortening!

That's because Fluffo is different! Even its color is different—yellow from pure carotene.

And Fluffo is such fun to work with! Use it in all your recipes that call for shortening—and see what happens! Without changing a single measurement, you'll get the flakiest, tenderest golden-brown piecrust possible . . . wonderfully tender-crisp golden-brown fries that are so digestible!

Yet Fluffo costs no more than leading white shortenings! It's available in most areas. Get a can and use it for richer-looking, better-tasting cooking!

The PHANTOM

By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY

SEEING THE PHANTOM'S BRAVERY AGAINST THE TIGER, AND HIS KEEN WIT IN ESCAPING THE FIRE, THE STAR DEMONS WERE PUZZLED. WERE THEY SUPERIOR TO HIM, THEY ASKED.

"BY SOME MAGIC, THESE HORNED STAR DEMONS COULD CONVERSE WITH THEIR DISTANT SKY SHIP."

JUDGING BY THIS SPECIMEN, IT IS NOT CERTAIN WE CAN CONQUER THIS RACE. WHAT NOW, GOOG?

LET'S GET TELE-WAVE INSTRUCTIONS FROM THE SHIP.

"HIGH IN THE SKY, IN A GREAT SHIP NEAR THE MOON..."

ROOG AND GOOG ASK FOR INSTRUCTIONS.

THIS BEING IS BRAVE AND QUICK WITH THINGS HE KNOWS. HOW WILL HE REACT WHEN HE MEETS SOMETHING--ALIEN?

ROOG AND GOOG, YOU SHALL USE THE ARTIFICIAL LUUG YOU HAVE ON YOUR SCOUT SHIP~

LET US SEE HOW THIS 'MAN' ACTS WHEN HE SEES A MONSTER FROM OUR WORLD!

UGH~ I HATE A LUUG-- EVEN AN ARTIFICIAL ONE!

I, ALSO. ALL OF OUR RACE ARE PARALYZED WITH FEAR AT THE VERY SIGHT OF ONE!

"WITH THEIR STRANGE ARTS AND MATERIALS, THE HORNED STAR DEMONS PREPARED THE ARTIFICIAL MONSTER"

WILSON McCOY 9-11

UGH~ FINISHED~ IT LOOKS REAL~ I HATE TO LOOK AT IT~~

I ALSO! WHEN THE 'MAN' SEES IT FOR THE FIRST TIME~ AND THINKS IT REAL~ HE'LL EITHER FAINT, OR RUN~ OR DROP DEAD~
